

VOL. 11, NO. 275.

CONNELLVILLE, PA., TUESDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 30, 1913.

EIGHT PAGES.

MAN ENTOMBED IN MINE SINCE FRIDAY GETS FOOD BY PIPE

Is Still Alive But Cannot be Freed for Two Days More.

WALLED IN BY SOLID ROCK

Beef Broth Is First Morsel of Food He Receives in Four Days; Complaints That Clothes are Wet but Otherwise He Is Comfortable Now.

By United Press. WILKES-BARRE, Sept. 30.—Signals received from Thomas Postesky, the miner who has been entombed in the Mammoth vein of the Continental mine at Centralia since last Friday, were received today by the 10 men who have been working night and day in relief in an effort to rescue him. Superintendent Fred M. Chase of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company stated today that Postesky would be reached in two days.

Food had been sent to the entombed man by means of a small pipe which was driven through the morning. Some beef broth was first poured through the hole and later an electric flashlight was conveyed to him, as he has no light.

The rescuers were able to hear Postesky's voice through the pipe and he assured them that he was feeling good. A large pipe will be driven through and some clothing sent to him as he complains that his clothes are wet.

PERJURY IS CHARGED

Former Meyersdale Resident Is Arraigned in U. S. Court.

Special to The Courier. POMERIOY, Sept. 30.—Frederick Howe, formerly of Meyersdale, was arraigned yesterday in Butler by County Detective Lester G. Wagner on charges of perjury preferred by the U. S. district attorney at Meyersdale. He was charged with perjury in a case in which he testified that he had sold 110 shares of stock, claiming the stock to be his.

Deal states that he bought the 110 shares from Harvey M. Horkley on June 25, Horkley being the assignee of Samuel D. Livenood, who claimed this sale was illegal because the stock had been given as collateral security, but Horkley and his associates deny this and are prosecuting Livenood as the head, and did not give it as security for a loan. The perjury charge followed.

HOTEL GUESTS IN DANGER

Fire in Chicago Oil Tanks Causes Them to Fly in Night Clothes.

By United Press. CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Successive explosions of oil tanks in a $65,000 fire which destroyed the plant of the Shell Oil Company early today, sent 100 guests of the Northwestern Hotel jumping to the streets in their night clothes. The lives of many of these and a score of other firemen were imperiled, but luckily none was injured.

A thrilling feature was the lowering of a paralyzed guest from the fourth floor to the street on a cot while the flames threatened both rescuers and guest.

CONVICT STILL MISSING

Mechanicsville Jailers Still at Loss to Explain Mysterious Escape.

By United Press. MOUNTAIN VIEW, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Nothing has been heard from Alexander Childs, the convict who disappeared from the penitentiary here some time Monday morning. It is now believed that he hid behind the tower on the wall of the prison yard until about 3 o'clock in the morning and then jumped.

A railroad man says he saw a strangely marked man sinking in the shadows near the station around that time. How Childs escaped from his cell and into the jail yard is still a mystery.

MOVING INTO NEW STORE

The Horner Company Transfers Its Stock to Woodworth Building.

The Horner Company today began moving stock from its Pittsburgh street store to the new quarters in the Woodworth building on Main street, which is rapidly nearing completion. Working night and day the large force of men has put the lower store room in shape to allow it to be stocked up by the Horner Company. The room which is to be used by the Woodworth people is progressing more slowly though the fixtures are on hand and being installed as rapidly as the space is cleared for them.

Remodeling Bank Building

A force of carpenters are working on the fifth floor of the First National bank building transforming one large room into four offices. The work has progressed far enough to begin plastering.

MANY CHANGES ARE PREDICTED AMONG METHODIST MINISTERS

Pastors to be Moved in Spite of Congregational Wishes, a Conference Hopes.

It is predicted among the Methodists that there will be more changes among the pastors at the conference which opens at Homestead tomorrow than for some years past. The Methodist Episcopal church of the Pittsburgh district will hold their annual meeting at that time.

It is understood that Bishop Hamilton has indicated that the rule of moving pastors at stated periods will be enforced. It has been the usual policy of the conference to limit pastorate to four or five years' duration.

This indication of the attitude of the conference officials is of especial interest here. It has been stated that the resolutions of congregations asking for the return of pastors will not assure reappointment to the charge, and if this proves correct, it is possible that Rev. H. C. Wolf may be sent elsewhere. Reverend Wolf has been pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church here for the past four years and has been asked to return.

It is understood that Bishop Hamilton believes better results obtain by an occasional changing of pastors, not only for the pastor himself, but for the congregation as well.

CITIES MORE MORAL

Savory's Rural Districts to Blame for Most Nameless Children.

By United Press. BURLING, Sept. 30.—The old theory that farming communities are more moral than cities receives another shock here today when statistics were published showing that fifty-nine per cent of the children born in the kingdom of Saxony last year were illegitimate.

The greater percentage of the births were in farming districts, the parents being farm laborers. Next in order came lawyers, physicians, state employees, preachers, army officers and school teachers as parents of illegitimate children. The report published today shows that in five years from 1908 to 1910, 35,773 children were legitimized in Saxony through the subsequent marriage of their parents.

TIEUP DELAYS TRAIN

Western Maryland Flyer Held Up East of Cumberland.

The Western Maryland night express, due here at 5:55 A. M. for Pittsburgh and Cleveland, was delayed more than six hours this morning by a wreck between Cumberland and Hagerstown. It did not reach here until after noon.

This is only the second serious delay to this train since it was inaugurated, and officials of the railroad think that a splendid operating record is being made. The fast Baltimore-Chicago train, one each way daily, are maintaining schedule time with persistent regularity and are proving popular. Much passenger business is originating in Connellsville.

BREAKS NECK IN FALL

Austrian of Erie Hill is Killed on Smithfield Bridge.

SMITHFIELD, Sept. 30.—Joseph Bucher, an Austrian employed as a painter at Erie Hill, fell from the Baltimore and Ohio bridge near here and broke his neck. Death was instantaneous. Bucher tumbled 25 feet.

The foreigner had come to visit friends in Smithfield and met them at the railroad station. They were walking to the friend's home when the accident occurred.

Doctor Messmore was called, but his services were not needed. The dead man was 37 years old. His parents are living in Austria.

BREAKMAN IS HURT

Frederick Man Injured in Youngstown Yards of P. & N.

Hugh Wilson of Painesville, a Pennsylvania railroad breakman, was admitted to the Westernland Hospital in Greensburg last evening suffering from a fractured skull suffered when he was struck by a light engine in the Youngstown yards.

Wilson was found lying along the main track at the north end of the yard in an unconscious condition. Wilson is 21 years old and single. He worked on a coal train on the Hempfield branch. His condition is critical and no hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Private Lines Looking

A number of leaks in the water mains on Fairview avenue, which the water committee of council ordered taken up with the water company, are private lines and the owners have been ordered to repair them at once or have their water shut off.

Catholic Bishop Collects $24,000. ROME, Sept. 30.—It was formally announced today at the Vatican that the Rt. Rev. David Doherty, who was recently appointed bishop of Jaro in the Philippine Islands, has just collected $24,000 in the United States for use in his diocese.

Baby Is Acquitted

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 30.—George H. Dixey of Long Beach, a millionaire charged with statutory offenses against young girls, was acquitted by the jury last evening.

High Mass for J. J. Driscoll

Requiem high mass was celebrated this morning at the Immaculate Conception Church for John J. Driscoll who died August 16.

Snapshots of Principal Figures in Sulzer's Impeachment Trial.

ANOTHER SOMERSET MAN FACES CHARGE OF EMBEZZLEMENT

Warrants are Issued for the Arrest of John H. Selbert.

SAY HE OBTAINED $28,500

Ten Informations are Sworn to by the Stockholders of Herkelle Lumber Company, of Which Accused Was Treasurer; Say He Kept Proceeds.

Special to The Courier.

SOMERSET, Sept. 30.—John H. Selbert, treasurer of the defendant Herkelle Lumber Company of this place, walked into the office of Justice of the Peace Walter W. Kinniburgh this morning and was served with warrants charging embezzlement and cheating and defrauding a corporation. There were 11 Informations against Selbert, 10 of them on embezzlement charges and one on cheating and defrauding.

Selbert immediately gave bail in the sum of $5,000 for his appearance at court. His bondsmen were Daniel W. Selbert, William H. Saylor and William H. Stutzman.

It is alleged that Selbert defrauded the lumber company out of $28,500. He recently filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy before the United States district court at Pittsburgh and Attorney Ernest Kooser was named trustee.

The Informations state that Selbert, as treasurer of the lumber company, had notes discounted and used the proceeds for his own private purposes. It is further alleged that he made $1,500 profit by a secret deal for ready purchased in behalf of the lumber concern.

This is the third embezzlement case that has involved prominent Somerset men. Henry J. Barron, a former bank cashier, committed suicide following charges preferred against him for financial irregularities while Harvey M. Bartley is missing, defalcations having been brought to light since his disappearance in August.

WILL MOTOR TO WASHINGTON.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Ruth Will Leave Tomorrow Morning.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Ruth, accompanied by their two sons, Linford and Frederick, and their daughter, Miss Mary Louise, will leave tomorrow by automobile for Washington where the boys will enter school for the term.

The party came to Connellsville from Atlantic City and have been visiting at the home of Mrs. William C. Foley, Mrs. Ruth's sister, on Main street.

Doctors Hospital Here. A. W. Green of Dawson was admitted to the South Side Private Hospital for treatment.

MIN WISSINGER CAT PUTS AN END TO TALK OF NEIGHBORS' CHICKS

Special to The Courier.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Sept. 30.—Residents along Broadview Road avenue have been missing chickens with depressing frequency of late. Various traps were set but the thief remained at large.

It was Mrs. Wissinger's burg that put an end to the depredations. Puss deposited a dead weasel on the Wissinger doorstep, licking his chops as he did so. The chickens are safe now.

FREAKS IN THE DAY'S NEWS

By United Press.

HAMMOND, Ind.—That her husband found enjoyment in flipping cigarette stubs in her face was the justification of Mrs. Charles Sims in seeking a divorce.

PANAMA.—The mud tug Gatun holds the distinction of being the first boat to go through the canal locks. She was raised 56 feet from the Atlantic to Gatun Lake.

NEW YORK.—Two students of City College masquerading as king and jester asked a policeman to join in their joll. He did and landed both in jail.

By United Press.

GEEL, I SAW A FUNNY SHOW AT THE OPERA-HOUSE LAST NIGHT!

THE WEATHER.

Unsettled with probable showers, this afternoon and tonight, is the noon forecast.

Temperature Record. 1913 1913

Maximum 49 65
Minimum 74 43
Mean 60 54
The Young river remained stationary at 50.

SENATOR W. E. CROW FAVORED AS STATE CHAIRMAN OF PARTY

But Fayette Man Will Not Consent to Become a Candidate.

SOME OPPOSITION DEVELOPS

Only Consented to Use of Name on Condition That Selection be Unanimous; Sproul May be Selected as Temporary Head of Organization.

By United Press.

State Senator W. E. Crow of Fayette is the most popular choice of the Republican state committee for state chairman of the organization, but the senator let it be known today at Harrisburg that under no circumstances would he accept the honor, in view of the opposition that has developed in certain quarters.

When Senator Crow stated that his name might be used it was with the understanding that the selection of a state chairman would be unanimous. Since then several committeemen announced they would not support the Fayette county man because of his stand on the workmen's compensation bill in the Senate, which he opposed because it was cruelly drawn and would work a hardship on the small employers of labor. William C. Sproul may be named temporary chairman.

The state committeemen will meet at Harrisburg tomorrow. The gathering will mark the passing of the Bull Moose management which has been masquerading as Republican since last year.

It is possible that only a temporary organization can be effected tomorrow owing to the fact that many of the committeemen do not possess the proper credentials. It is necessary for the secretary of the commonwealth to certify to the eligible committeemen and the returns from many of the counties have not yet been received at Harrisburg.

The committeemen eligible to serve are expected to form a temporary organization and then have a meeting called later in October to make it permanent.

Senator Penrose will, resuming control of the state organization at the meeting tomorrow. During the Presidential campaign last year the Republican state committee was in the hands of Bull Moose men who masqueraded as Republicans. Henry G. Wasson, a Penn. lieutenant, is the retiring state chairman.

Senator Crow and H. M. Kephart of Connellsville are the Fayette representatives on the state committee this year, having been elected without opposition at the recent primary.

No Clue to Burglars. The police have no clue to the robbers who entered Cuneo's store on Main street, nor to the fellow who took Jack Crawford's watch at the West Penn office employees during the month of July, August and September.

"BURGESS" BIXLER HOLDS A BUSY POLICE COURT SESSION

Police Have a Busy Day of It and Land Many Offenders Into the Jail.

This morning's session of police court was the busiest in months, eleven prisoners being up for hearings before "Burgess" Bixler. John Reilly, a railroader who was arrested for being drunk paid a fine of $3.50 and was leaving the police station when Chief Rottler served a warrant on him for jumping a board bill, the prosecutor being David Barnett. He was remanded to a cell again to await a hearing before Justice Donegan.

Richard Jones of Dunbar, who promised on his honor that he would leave Connellsville and stay away when arraigned Monday morning, doled up serenely and when asked why he had not kept his promise, replied that he had gone back to Dunbar but had been unable to resist the awful call that Connellsville seems to have for him and returned in the afternoon. He was given 15 minutes to get back to Dunbar for keeps.

Charles Walters of Trotter, who was arrested for drunkenness and fighting paid a fine of $5, he having been assisted financially by a Connellsville girl who appeared at police station early this morning.

A business-like and respectable looking citizen of Kanute, Kansas, who said he was working his way toward Philadelphia by doing advertising soliciting for newspapers, was allowed to go with a warning. He was charged with annoying women but he said his geniality had been misunderstood by the policemen. He insisted that he was entirely harmless. John Anderson of Dunbar was trusted to pay a $3.50 fine, he having made good on a former occasion.

The others were common drunks and were committed in default of fines. The total of fines collected was $11.50.

MINING MEN TO MEET

Pittsburg District to be Well Represented at the Congress.

Notices have been received in the Pittsburgh district of the coming annual meeting of the American Mining Congress, the sixteenth annual gathering of that body, at Philadelphia on October 29 to 31, and the further announcement has been made that some of the principal papers to be presented at the meeting will be by Pittsburgh members. This congress represents all mineral interests of the United States and takes up the general mining industry in its broadest form, dealing in technical matters almost entirely.

Some of the facts to be submitted will show a steady decline in the number of fatalities in mines based on the tonnage output since the safety movement has been taken up by the industry aided by science and Government supervision. There is also to be discussed this year federal aid for mining schools.

The Alaskan situation and mine taxation and workmen's compensation laws are scheduled. J. E. L. Hornberger, controller of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, is to present a paper on "Mining Costs."

ADLEY McCUNE DEAD

Lower Tyrone Township Man Was Once a Miller at Dawson.

Adley C. McCune, 66 years old, a miller at Dawson for a number of years, died suddenly last evening at his home in Lower Tyrone township. Mr. McCune was stricken with a stroke of paralysis yesterday morning, resulting in his death. Funeral from the house Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. W. B. Purnell, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Dawson, will officiate.

Mr. McCune resided in Dawson virtually all his life, operating McCune's mill until a short time ago when he disposed of his business and moved to a farm in Lower Tyrone township. He was an elder in the Presbyterian Church at Dawson since 1890, at home and a daughter, Mrs. John Don, survive. His wife died last January. Deceased was born November 4, 1847.

LEADS IN DIVORCES.

Switzerland Enjoys Reputation as "Land of Divorce."

BERNE, Switzerland, Sept. 30.—The little Swiss Republic now marches at the head of the world's divorce columns, having captured the "blue ribbon" of divorce statistics from the United States, which has thereby fallen into second place.

According to figures published here today by the government, there were 40 divorces to every 10,000 population in Switzerland in the last 12 months, as against 12 to every 10,000 in the United States. Switzerland is the "Land of Divorce."

TROLLEY SYSTEM TIED UP

Generator Trouble at Power House Causes 50-Minute Delay.

The entire West Penn trolley system was thrown out of service for 50 minutes last night owing to generator trouble at the power house. All of the cars were stopped and the schedule was entirely disrupted.

When the trouble was located every possible effort was put forth to repair it as quickly as possible but despite this the cars remained motionless for nearly an hour.

Service was resumed about 9 o'clock and continued throughout the rest of the evening.

Half Holidays End

Saturday marked the closing of the half holidays on Saturday for the West Penn office employees during the month of July, August and September.

COMMITTEE MAKES NO CHANGES IN ITS TRAFFIC ORDINANCE

It Will be Fought Out Before Council in Original Form.

IS BACKED BY THE SOLICITOR

Members Decline to Change Preliminary Draft and Insist that It Stand or Fall on Its Merits; Business Men Say the Provisions are Unfair.

Council will meet in regular session Friday night for the transaction of routine business and such other matters as do not come under that head. The traffic ordinance which was held up at the last meeting because Councilmen McCormick and Berg thought a longer time was necessary to go over it carefully, is scheduled to come up without change.

That section of the ordinance that caused the trouble was that which makes it compulsory for moving vans to secure permission from the burgess to back up in front of a building in the "business section." It was contended that more time would be taken up in hunting the burgess than would be necessary to unload the wagon. However, as Solicitor Munson stands by on the ordinance a sit new ordinance and the committee has passed upon it and found it satisfactory, it will be fought out on that line.

Several business men on Main street claim that the provision that prohibits them from standing their teams in front of their business places longer than 15 minutes is unfair. This was aimed to prevent the "parking" of automobiles in the business section but of course it affects the teamsters as well and they will raise a kick on it. Yet if any discrimination was made, the solicitor and committee argue, it would destroy the whole force of the ordinance.

W. M. WAGONER DEAD

Old Resident of Connellsville Ill Only a Short Time.

Watson M. Wagoner, 64 years old, a resident of Connellsville virtually all his life, died last evening at the home of George Freeman on Graham avenue, Greenwood. Mr. Wagoner was out on last Thursday and was taken suddenly ill on Friday. Stomach trouble was the immediate cause of his death. Funeral tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence, Interment in Chestnut Hill cemetery.

Mr. Wagoner was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wagoner of Connellsville. At an early age he learned the carpenter trade but of late years had lived a retired life. Since the death of his wife a number of years ago he made his home with Mrs. Freeman, an adopted daughter. The surviving brothers and sister are: J. L. Wagoner, of the West Side; George Wagoner of Dunbar; Mrs. Benton Miller, of North Bertha, O., and Mrs. Mattie Orbin of Broad Ford.

LOSE INTEREST QUICKLY

But that Ginseng Fortune Did Look Easy at First Glance.

A dispatch from Elkins, W. Va., telling how one man raked a crop of Ginseng worth $45,000 on one acre of land, has caused several Connellsville men to take an interest in this as a money-maker that they were seriously considering of buying land and going into the business. It was easy money they thought—just plant it in the spring and in the fall presto, $45,000.

They lost much of their enthusiasm, however, when they were informed that it takes a Ginseng crop nine years to mature, and when it was further stated that the $45,000 crop might represent a lifetime of development, they decided to drop the scheme entirely.

TROLLEY CARS CRASH

Four Persons are Seriously Hurt in Pittsburgh Accident.

By United Press. PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—Four persons were seriously injured, seven others sustained slight hurts and three trolley cars were smashed at Third and Smithfield streets this morning when the failure of an air brake to work caused a heavy Highland car to collide with two others. The injured are Iota Davis, chest crushed; Charlotte Pratt, internal injuries; Margaret Chritain, 25, chest crushed and internal injuries; Guido Boeking, 15, internal injuries.

The front of the big car was wrecked but the motorman escaped with slight injuries by jumping.

WANT STREET OPEN.

Council Is Trying to Prevent a Blockade at Smythtown.

The street committee of council is trying to devise a solution of the problem which will arise if Snyder street is closed during part of the progress of the street paving which was begun by Contractor Arthur Page of Mount Pleasant on Saturday.

If the street is entirely closed drivers will have to make at least a three mile detour. An effort will be made to keep it open as long as possible, probably by paving one half street and allowing teams to run over it while the remainder is being finished. This, however, may be found impracticable.

SOCIETY.

Party at Milltown.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sprout at Milltown, was the scene of an enjoyable birthday party Saturday afternoon given in honor of their daughter, Pearl and Annabel Sprout. About 60 guests attended and spent a delightful afternoon at games and music. At 2 o'clock luncheon was served. The honor guests received a number of pretty and useful presents. The guests were Nellie Knight, Jessie Litten, Grace Litten, Madeline Sprout, Helen Hufnagle, Madeline Cable, Beatrice Cable, Ida Frances Cable, Annie Ellenberger, Ivy Ellenberger, Pearl Patterson, Elizabeth Cable, Mary Litten, Elma Herbert, Arabel Herbert, Vera Patterson, Olive Pearl Sprout, Gertrude Sprout, Edna Bell Evans, Jennie Evans, Wynona Sprout, Nellie Junk, Rosella Sprout, Grace Lauchrey, Nina Grace Smith, Mary Zimmerman, Olive Ruth Lamm, Annabel Sprout, Anna Malin, Sarah Malin, Mildred Musser, Pearl Lave, Edna Nicolson, Madeline Angell, Louis Monogue, Helen Monogue, Florence Sprout, Lita Sprout, Lillian Hackett, Sarah Hackett, Gladys Hackett, Grace Hackett, Virginia Workman, Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Daniel Sprout, Mrs. Harry McKelvey, Mrs. Harrison Cable, Mrs. William Cable, Mrs. Mable Hackett, Mrs. Anne Hackett, Donald Sprout, William Cable and J. D. Sprout.

Wife Entertains Needleworkers.
Mrs. L. S. Michael will entertain the West Side Needleworkers Thursday evening at her home on Morris street, Greenwood.

Hayes-Miller.
Miss Edna Hayes, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Hayes, formerly of Youngwood, and Harry H. Miller of Youngwood, were married today at the home of the bride in Pennsylvania. Mr. and Mrs. Miller will reside at Youngwood.

Benefit Entertainment.
The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Ancient Order of Hibernians will hold a euchre and dance Tuesday evening, October 7, in the Parochial school. Music will be furnished by Kiefer's orchestra.

Smiley-Darby.
Miss Mary Smiley and Milton Miller Darby, both of Fairchance, were married yesterday morning in the First Presbyterian Church at Fairchance. Rev. E. P. Thomas of Uniontown officiated. The bride was attended by Misses Mary Smiley and Milton Miller Darby.

Missionary Meeting.
The regular meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Brethren Church will be held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Alex Krieger on the lake. All who attend will meet at the home of Mrs. O. H. Zimmerman in Market street and from there in a body to the Krieger home.

The N. C. D. Class in Meet.
The N. C. D. Class of the Methodist Episcopal Sunday school will meet Friday evening at the home of Mrs. A. W. Kerns on Seventh street, West Side.

The Regular Meeting of the Ladies Aid and Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian Church will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. D. Downs on the South Side.

A meeting of the Young Ladies' Guild of the First Baptist Church will be held this evening at the home in Will's Road.

Thursday Musicals.
The first meeting of the Thursday Musicals for the season will be held Thursday evening, October 9, at the home of Miss Nellie Lickman on East Main street. A meeting of the program committee was held last evening.

Evening at Fairy Work.
The J. C. Girls' Fairy Work Club will meet Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Ralph Hyatt on West Main street.

Surprise at Elverson.
Mrs. Adla Elverson was tendered a surprise party Thursday evening at her home at Elverson by the Ladies Aid Society of the United Brethren Church of Elverson. An entertaining program arranged by Mrs. Mary Orbin was rendered. A dainty luncheon was served. Among the guests were Mrs. John Vetterfield, Mrs. Mary Hill, Mrs. M. F. Fickel, Mrs. Herbert Watson, Mrs. Mary Dannecker, Mrs. E. Hordstun, Mrs. Grant Orbin, Mrs. George Dannecker, Mrs. William Dannecker, Mrs. William Mackey, Mrs. Warren Miller, Mrs. E. K. K. Mrs. Howard Hamilton, Mrs. Whaley, Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. David Hadden, Mrs. Homer Licker, Mrs. S. Solomon, Mrs. J. Solomon, Mrs. James Lakerhead, Mrs. William McLaughlin, Mrs. G. M. Burns, Misses Sadie Rubin, Carl Webb, Florence Hill, Mary Smith, Nellie Miller and Elizabeth Phil.

CHINESE GIRLS TRY IT. BUDDY YOUR HAIR.
Make It Thick, Glossy, Wavy, Lustrous and Remove Dandruff—Real Surprise For You.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's for a "Dandereine hair cleanser." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Dandereine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have decided the beauty of your hair.

Reverend beautifying the hair at once, Dandereine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at the roots—growing all over your hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it, surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandereine for any drug store or toilet counter, and just try it.—Adv.

Will Wed at Dawson.
The marriage of Miss Lorraine McGill, daughter of Mrs. E. McGill of Dawson, and James Hartz of Scottsdale, will take place Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride. Only the members of the two families and a few intimate friends will attend. Mrs. McGill was employed in the Dawson postoffice until several weeks ago.

Try our classified advertisements.

NEVER SUCH A REMEDY FOR PILES

It will only cost the sufferer 25 cents to prove that bleeding, itching or protruding piles no matter how chronic or how painful can quickly be ended forever.
Go to Graham & Co., Connellsville, S. A. Lowe & Co., Scottsdale, today, and there a quarter, say "I want a jar of San Cura Ointment" and if you aren't satisfied—your money back.
Yes, and more, use San Cura Ointment for old sores that people say will never heal, for fever sores, for itching skin, eczema, tetter, salt rheum, chapped hands, face or lips, for ulcers, carbuncles, boils, sore nipples and broken breasts.
It draws out all poison; that's the secret of the wonderful success of San Cura Ointment, that's why it so quickly heals scalds, burns, cuts and bruises without scarring. It's best to use San Cura Ointment at all times, it banishes pimples, blackheads and kills the germs of disease. 25 cents.
Thompson Medical Co., Titusville, Pa.—Advertisement.

BAD CONVICT BOLTS

Gets Away During Dinner Hour at Moundsville Pen.

MOUNDSVILLE, Sept. 30.—Making a sensational dash from the ranks of 1,100 convicts in the state penitentiary who were on their way to dinner at noon today, Harry Howard, the worst criminal in the state, scaled the wall by means of a hook and escaped. He was caught a half hour later hiding under the porch of a residence a short distance from the prison.
The escape of Howard and that of Alexander Childs on Sunday morning has served to invite a fear of a jail delivery and extra guards are to be put on with instructions to be especially vigilant.

BIG PRICE FOR COAL

Wheeler Offer County Equivalent of $5,000 an Acre for Holdings.

Special to The Courier.
UNIONTOWN, Sept. 30.—The county was offered the equivalent of $5,000 an acre for the coal under the county home property today when the Wheeler petitioned the court for the right to drive headings through the coal and pay two cents a bushel royalty for all that is mined.
The matter of using the proceeds from this coal to build a workhouse in the county has been considered for several years and the offer of the Wheeler is expected to be given serious consideration. The coal is also expected to yield enough to remodel the courthouse.

DEMOCRATS UNDER FIRE.
Republicans Attack Methods of the Conference Members.

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The House continued an hour earlier than usual this morning to amend the tariff bill on its way to the Senate in order that it may receive the President's signature later in the week. There was every prospect that the conference report would be adopted.

The Republicans claim that the conferees exceeded their authority in altering several minor schedules. They fault the majority with charges that the report was not made after a "free and full conference," but when the Republican conferees were not present.

GOLDEN EAGLES CELEBRATE.
Large Class of Candidates Initiated by Scottsdale Castle.

A large class of candidates was initiated into the Scottsdale Castle No. 31, Knights of the Golden Eagle Friday evening in the J. C. F. Hall at Scottsdale. Nearly all members witnessed the initiation.
There was also a large turnout from Mount Pleasant Castle No. 31, Tarr Castle No. 181, Greensburg Castle No. 205, Uniontown Castle No. 215. The meeting was one of the best held in recent years, great interest being manifested in the work by the members and visiting circles. Refreshments followed the degree work.

ITS HELPFUL.
Something Everyone Needs and It Doesn't Cost a Penny.

It safeguards your funds, makes the payment of bills easy, establishes credit and it costs nothing—We mean, of course, a checking account with a good bank. It's mighty good business to have one. It's sure to prove helpful in all your financial transactions and you don't need a large sum to start it. The First National Bank of Connellsville has always welcomed small checking accounts because it believes that paying by check is the simplest and safest way. Write or call for booklet, "The Advantage of Paying by Check."

LOOK WHO'S HERE.
"Amateur" Night Is Resumed at the Arcade by Manager Bell.

Of interest to budding thespians is the announcement last night by Manager "Bud" Hall of the Arcade that "amateur night" will be resumed this coming Friday.
It has been a long time since the amateurs held the boards, although in the rainy days there was a grand rush for choice places on the program. Four prizes of $5, $1, $3 and $2 are announced by the Arcade for the best performers each Friday night.

Woodruff Is Improved.
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—T. L. Woodruff, who was stricken with paralysis at the meeting in Cooper Union Hall last night, had recovered somewhat today. It was announced, however, that he will take no further active part in the political fight.

Club Will Open Season.
The first meeting of the Saturday Afternoon Club of Vanderbilts for the season will be held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Madigan at the Vanderbilt Hotel.

One Cent a Word for classified advertisements. Try them.

PERSONAL.

Howard Mann, who is employed at Woodlawn, has returned after a visit to his home here.

Mrs. Jennie McGill and son, Harry, and Leonard Long were the guests of Mrs. John Beese of Uniontown, Sunday.

Miss Jennie Brooks and Miss Martha Habbage of Eighth street, Greenwood, will leave tonight for a several weeks' visit with relatives in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Miss Jennie Leach of Cottage avenue, will leave Thursday for Steubenville, O., to visit Miss Helen Morrison.

Mrs. Robert Hughes of Monaca, is visiting friends in South Connellsville. She is the widow of Robert Hughes, at one time a well known ball timore & Ohio conductor, and resided at South Connellsville. The family moved to Monaca about eight years ago.

If not good, we'll make good—that's good. Dave Cohen, Tailor, Ave.

Mrs. Eleanor Rush of North Pittsburgh street, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Charles Patterson and Mrs. Mary McHugh of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. E. F. Hood left yesterday for a visit with relatives in Philadelphia. Miss Margaret Coyne of Pittsburgh, spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Anna Coyne.

Miss Madge Harper of Dunbar, has resigned as a clerk for Kobergers to accept a position as stenographer at Silverman's store in Uniontown.

Mrs. A. Whitaker of Fayette street, is visiting friends and relatives in West Newton.

Mrs. C. E. Shupp went to Pittsburgh this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Malletta of Ohio, spent yesterday with relatives here.

F. O. Goodwin is visiting relatives in Morris Hill, Ind.

DULL, THROBING OR VIOLENT HEADACHES.
Dr. James' Headache Powder, Clear Your Head and Stop Neuralgia Pain at Once! For a Package.

You take a Dr. James' Headache Powder and in just a few moments your head clears and all neuralgia and distress vanishes. It's the quickest, surest relief for headache, whether dull, throbbing, splitting or nerve-racking. Send someone to the drug store and get a dime package now. Quit suffering—it's as needless. Be sure you get Dr. James' Headache Powder—then there will be no disappointment.—Adv.

COURT SETTLES DISPUTE.
Orders an Election of Directors for Hobb Company.

Special to The Courier.
UNIONTOWN, Sept. 30.—Judge Van Swearingen today made an order in the litigation growing out of the affairs of the Hobb Coke Drawer Company of Uniontown in which he denied the petition of Foster S. Watson and others that money be paid to L. J. Miller as president be returned.

At the same time the court directed an election of directors for the company as requested by the petitioners in the equity proceeding.

Attractive Low Rates to the Pacific Northwest.
Daily from September 25th to October 10th, the Sea Line will sell special low rate tickets to Spokane, Portland, Seattle, Vancouver and all North Pacific Coast points including Alberici, Sukatchew and British Columbia. Address: C. J. Williams, General Agent, 300 Pac. 340 Sixth avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Adv.

Major McDowell Dies.
SHARON, Sept. 30.—Major Alexander McDowell, clerk of the national House of Representatives and a figure in state and national politics for many years, died at his home here today at the age of 73 years. He has been ill but a short time.

Hope to Cumberland.
John Mitchell and Anna Belle Himmell, both of Connellsville, and Miller and Myrtle Klingner, both of Uniontown; Eric D. Kuton and Ethel S. Hardwick, both of Uniontown, were married in Cumberland yesterday.

Girl Has Typhoid Fever.
Miss Grace Speelman, the 12-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Speelman of 131 Eighth street, is suffering from typhoid fever, the case having been reported to the health officer this morning.

Licensed to Wed.
Rose B. Taylor of Connellsville, George A. Cain of Scottsdale, Guy L. McNeil of Mount Pleasant and J. M. DeKona of Ruffsdale, were granted marriage licenses in Greensburg yesterday.

Case Is Settled.
UNIONTOWN, Sept. 30.—When the trial was called in court today it was announced that the suit of F. M. Husband against F. M. Ritchey of Connellsville had been settled amicably.

GREAT POWER REQUIRED.
"I hear that Mrs. Gabb is threatened with lockjaw."
"I can hardly credit so much force in Nature."

MRS. MANGES ESCAPES OPERATION

How She Was Saved From Surgeon's Knife by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mogadore, Ohio.—"The first two years I was married I suffered so much from female troubles and bearing down pains that I could not stand on my feet long enough to do my work. The doctor said I would have to undergo an operation, but my husband wanted me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound first. I took three bottles and it made me well and strong and I avoided a dreadful operation. I now have two fine healthy children, and I cannot say too much about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. L. Manges, R. F. D. 10, Mogadore, Ohio.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drug cure when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

COURAGE OF NAPOLEON.
The Way It Carried Him From Aspern, Keeling to Wagram.

Professor J. Holland Rose in "The Personality of Napoleon" writes of Napoleon's courage. He says that his personality "never stood forth so grandly as after a defeat." The most serious blow in the middle part of his career was that dealt him by the Archduke Charles at Aspern-Essling, north-east of Vienna. The Austrians were nearly double him in strength. The bridges over the Danube had been broken down in his rear. His great marshals, Lannes and Bonaparte, in fact, he had suffered a terrible reverse. All his generals were for retreat, but he withstood them, and Professor Rose ranks the next six weeks "among the most glorious of his military career." He secured new troops, deceived his enemy by false movements and finally defeated him at Wagram.

But a decline came to such a prodigious man. He himself said at St. Helena that he had been spoiled by success. It was natural that the victor in fifty pitched battles and innumerable smaller engagements should come to believe himself omnipotent and invincible. It was this hardening of the mind that betrayed him into the Russian campaign, that caused him to refuse all compromise in 1813 and 1814 and that led him to defeat by his inferiors, Wellington and Blucher, at Waterloo. Just as Hannibal was finally beaten by his inferior, Scipio, at Zama.

CAN YOU USE A "DIATICEFF?"
Kind and Gentle One Down in Georgia Wants Job.

What is a diaticeff? A man down in Georgia says he wants a job as one of them in the government service. The postoffice department at Washington received this letter from him a few days ago:

Postmaster General—Dear Sir, I want a job with you all. Say I want a job of diaticeff. You write soon to me. I sure want me a job with you all. My age is twenty-two and a half years old. Your kind friend.

The name of the postmaster general's kind friend is suppressed. One guess of the department is that "diaticeff" is a new spelling for detective.

In This Rapid Age.
"Mamma's good little boy want a slice of bread and—"
"Oh, mother, cut out that sort of thing. You're nearly four years old."—Chicago Tribune.

Where There's a Will.
By Mary Roberts Rinehart

It's just a delightful comedy with complications enough to satisfy the most exacting. The author brings in love affairs, jealousies, ambitions, and the farce is fast and furious from beginning to end.

Be sure you do not miss the issue with the first installment.

Those Who Rely on the great home remedy which has proved its power to relieve safely and speedily the minor ailments arising from defective or irregular action of the organs of digestion, find themselves spared hours of suffering and able to ward off the attacks of serious sickness.

BEECHAM'S PILLS
never disappoint those who take them. They help the digestion, stimulate the liver, clear the kidneys and regulate the bowels. By purifying the blood they increase cheerfulness and create confidence. As actions depend on health and strength, those who know Beecham's Pills

Enjoy Life
Sold everywhere. In boxes, 25c. Beecham's Pills have the largest sale of any medicine in the world.

The New Men's Wear Store

To be Opened to the Public

Saturday, October 4

In the Title & Trust Company's Building, formerly occupied by E. W. Horner, and which will be known as the

"The Store With a Conscience"

And its import to the public of Connellsville and vicinity, the word "Conscience" is but an empty phrase if not lived up to its full meaning.

This is what you may expect of this new store, and your expectations will be fully realized.

Up-to-date in style.

Unmatchable for the price in quality.

Highest standard of workmanship.

One price to all.

At all times the purchaser must be satisfied.

A full, honest dollar's worth of value for every dollar you pay.

With these true facts always to be strictly adhered to, we make our bid for your patronage.

GOLDSTONE BROS.

BILLIE AND SOL,

Title & Trust Building, Pittsburg Street,

CONNELLSVILLE

Opening Day, Saturday, October 4.

An Isolated Sanitarium

In the dead of winter, the usual patients who believe themselves invalids, an Austrian duke, an American heiress, two or three other high strung young American men and women—keep them for weeks together in this sanitarium and you can imagine the possibilities as presented in our new serial

J. W. McCLAREN, Agent

FOOTER'S DYE WORKS.

Exclusive Tailor and Haberdashery, Main Street

Rapid Vacuum Washer Coupon.

Tuesday, September 30, 1913.

Present this Coupon at The Courier office with 5 others of consecutive dates and

98 Cents

and get this $8.50 Rapid Vacuum Clothes Washer.

NAME.....

P. O.

Miss Irene McWilliams

Teacher of Piano, Harmony and Theory.

Graduate of New England Conservatory of Music.
803 Loucks Avenue,
SCOTSDALE, PA.
Bell Phone 137.

FIRST Christian Science SOCIETY.

Sunday service at 11 A. M.; Sunday School at 10 A. M.; Wednesday evening meeting at 8 o'clock. Reading room open Monday from 8 to 9:30 P. M.; Wednesday and Saturday from 3 to 5 P. M.
Room 8 First & Tenth Buildings.
UNIONTOWN, PA.

The News of Nearby Towns.

SMITHFIELD.

SMITHFIELD, Sept. 29.—Walton Shewalter of Pittsburgh is visiting his father, T. O. Shewalter, here.

Clyde Grimm of Alliance, O., is spending a vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Grimm.

Omer Hahn of Turtle Creek, Pa., is visiting relatives here.

The institution of young men that entered the West Virginia University for their first term a few weeks since passed through the history as put on by the seniors of that institution a few nights ago.

The old boys by some means induced three of the fresh fish to take an auto ride six or seven miles out of Morgantown to the vicinity of Teas Ferry on the Cheat river.

There they found them and tied them to trees, each of the three isolated from the other, and left them to work out their own salvation.

The young man of the trio from Smithfield released himself by using the morning by chewing the rope with his teeth and made his way back to Morgantown as the crows were crowing for day, a wiser if not a better boy.

This young man was not home here a few days ago that happened and was boasting of what they, the freshmen, were going to do to these seniors. Oh, they could do it all right, because there was so many more of them than there was of the seniors.

C. H. Deal, Morgantown; C. F. Foster, J. P. Worth, R. A. Shryver, Pittsburgh; H. W. Fowler, Connelville; F. S. Grubb, Salem, O.; John E. Gray, H. C. Braden, O.; H. Braden, C. Hunter, R. G. Cole, J. P. McDonald, Unlontown, were recent arrivals at the Smithfield house.

W. J. Rubin of Unlontown was a business visitor Saturday.

A petition is being circulated here and is likely to have the closed season for deer and elk extended to five years.

Mrs. T. P. Jones and children, Margaret and Lloyd, of Connelville, visited relatives in town and country for the week end. They returned to their home at Unlontown, Monday.

James Montello who has spent two years of strenuous toil on the John Keyes truck farm in North Union township, is moving back to Smithfield.

Roy David, a Baltimore & Ohio fireman, soon after going to work Saturday night, was unfortunately burned about the face by steam and hot ashes blown from the boiler. He was in a stooping position looking into the furnace when the injector was turned on, causing an explosion with the above result.

Mr. and Mrs. William Young, who have been visiting relatives here for the past week left for their home in "Incident Sunday" evening.

Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Howard of Unlontown, spent Sunday with relatives in the borough.

J. H. Grimm, who had intended to spend the winter in the south, has changed his mind and will go to Southern California, where he has been advised by a fellow sufferer that he will derive great benefit and relief from the rheumatism.

Curtis Jackson and Omer Dulany of Fairbairn were visiting relatives in the borough Sunday.

Lindsay Howard of Johnstown, was visiting his parents here Sunday.

Mrs. H. O'Neil went to Point Marion on Tuesday, to spend a morning to visit relatives for a few days.

H. O'Neil was laid up for three days at the week's end with a genuine attack of nature, a matter of which the majority of the west years ago.

10 CENT "CASCAREN" IS YOUR LAXATIVE.

Best Liver and Bowel Cleanser and Stomach Regulator in the World—Work While You Sleep.

Get a 10-cent box.

Put inside—just once—the Suits, Pills, Castor Oil or Purge—Water which merely force a passage through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, loosen and purify these drainage organs, and have no effect what ever upon the liver and stomach.

Keep your "insides" pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the concentrated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never, grip, stricken, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, indigestion, sour stomach or constipated bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.—Adv.

ROCKWOOD.

ROCKWOOD, Sept. 29.—Edward Parks, who has been a patient in the Western Maryland Hospital at Cumberland for the past two weeks, suffering with eye trouble, has returned home somewhat improved.

A party from Rockwood motored to the Quennahoning dam and surrounding vicinity on Sunday where they spent the day very pleasantly.

J. Carlo Dull returned to Baltimore, Md., Monday where he will finish his four year course in medicine at the University of Maryland.

Dr. C. T. Staylor is ill of typhoid fever at his Main street residence.

The following Rockwood citizens have been elected jurors for civil court beginning October 29:

First week—Jacob Whitout, Milton Newman, Milton township.

Second week—J. P. Grownall, William Hoover, Alvin Pike, Black township.

Third week—Hiram Wable, H. S. Gardner, John Barker.

Mrs. George W. Pritts of Berlin was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hoover of Rockwood for the past week.

Mrs. C. W. Shuppan of Connelville, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Souser of Rockwood several days last week.

PERRYOPOLIS.

PERRYOPOLIS, Sept. 30.—Mrs. E. O. Blair is visiting friends in Fayette City for a few days.

Mrs. George Ketter of Connelville, is in town for several days.

Mrs. J. W. Harrington and son, Maynard, and Mrs. J. L. Wood visited the former's sister, Mrs. Earl Hough of Burnside on Sunday.

Miss Pauline Hodgkins was a Connelville visitor yesterday.

Charles Williams of Unlontown, visited his mother, Mrs. Sadie Williams on Sunday.

Hazel and Zed Orr visited friends at Dawson over Sunday.

The body of Frank King, who was killed by a train at Layton on Monday morning, was brought to Blair's morgue and prepared for burial.

Leonard Blair, Thurman Hixson and Lay Cope came down from Unlontown and spent Sunday at their homes here.

Miss Goldie Williams, who teaches at Wick Haven, was here Sunday.

Raymond Luce left yesterday for Detroit.

PERRYOPOLIS, Sept. 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Roland Cully are visiting friends in Ohio.

Mrs. W. L. Torpe and daughter Evelyn, spent Sunday in Connelville.

Charles Reynolds came down from Connelville on Sunday to call on his parents.

Mrs. Lela Hough of Burnside visited relatives in town yesterday.

Mrs. Brallier returned to Layton yesterday after a visit with friends here.

Philip Hellerbach, rural mail carrier, is taking his vacation. Mrs. Kate Harris, the substitute, is doing the work.

Misses Blanche and Beatrice Stuckmayer were Connelville shoppers on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Leachy and son of Vanderbilt, spent Saturday and Sunday visiting relatives here.

Charles Snyder and family of McKeenport, visited friends in town on Sunday.

Mrs. William Armstrong and Mrs. A. C. Herwick were Connelville callers Saturday.

Mrs. J. Turner of Elwood City, returned home last evening after being the guest of Clara Shickler for a few days.

Miss Maude Martin of Burnside, Miss Anne Leeper, William Leeper, of Hick Haven, and Luther Cope of Scottdale, were out of town folks attending services at the Church of Christ on Sunday.

Mrs. Lizzie Shuler left yesterday for a visit with her daughter at Elwood City.

Station Luce of Monocmen called on friends here yesterday.

Miss Anna J. Lewis of Dunbar, was the guest of Pauline Hodgkins over Sunday.

Thurman Shiley of Connelville, was calling on friends in town on Saturday and Sunday.

L. V. Stichel of Star Junction, was the guest of friends in town Sunday.

Mrs. Ada Herwick returned today to her home at Elwood City after visiting friends here.

Miss Mina Craig of Unlontown spent Sunday with relatives in town.

Early day work of the Methodist Episcopate "Constitution" Sunday with a good attendance. Special music was a feature of the program. In the evening a trio composed of Mrs. Youkin, Mrs. Kannerer and Mrs. Snyder rendered a selection, and Miss Mabel Youkin sang a solo.

Try our classified advertisements.

DUNBAR.

DUNBAR, Sept. 30.—W. C. Smith was transacting business in Pittsburgh Monday.

Mrs. Benjamin Martin, Mrs. Edward Hay and Mrs. Anthony Gilmore were Connelville visitors Monday.

The Gladie Adult Bible class will hold their regular meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Alma Rootley of the Furnace.

Mrs. John Whitaker and daughter Nellie, were calling on relatives in Unlontown last evening.

David Greer and Walter Warner spent Sunday at Wilkesburg visiting Mrs. W. W. Warner who is a patient at the Columbia Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Walters were Connelville shoppers yesterday.

The official board of the Methodist Episcopal Church held their regular meeting Monday evening in the church.

Mrs. Alice Cameron of Oakton, Iowa, and Miss Sylvia Smith of Woodburn, Iowa, are here the guests of Mrs. W. C. Smith of Speers Hill.

Miss Edith Wood of New Sharon, Iowa, is visiting Mrs. Sadie Jones of Connelville street.

Mrs. York, mother of Mrs. J. W. Greaves, is seriously ill.

Mrs. Bartlett was a Connelville shopper today.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grochen attended the Exposition in Pittsburgh on Saturday.

Thomas Conley of Duquesne, who died Sunday will be brought here on the 10 o'clock train and buried from St. Alloysius Church today.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church will hold their regular meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. J. McGee on Franklin road.

Patronize those who advertise.

RHEUMA IS FREE FROM NARCOTICS

Relieves Rheumatism by Cleaning the Blood—Whole System of All Impurities.

Do not try to relieve Rheumatism by dosing the system with dangerous drugs. RHEUMA is free from all poisons and narcotics and cleanses the system in a natural but scientific manner. The dangerous "water" is eliminated from the kidneys, bowels, liver and skin. RHEUMA costs only 50 cents of A. A. Chalko.

It was a great sufferer from Rheumatism for ten years. After two days use of RHEUMA it laid down my crutches and have since given them away. I am a well man.—J. R. Crocker, 614 Sumter St., Columbia, S. C.—Adv.

INDIAN CREEK.

INDIAN CREEK, Sept. 29.—Mr. O. Blair is visiting friends in Fayette City for a few days.

Mrs. J. W. Harrington and son, Maynard, and Mrs. J. L. Wood visited the former's sister, Mrs. Earl Hough of Burnside on Sunday.

Miss Pauline Hodgkins was a Connelville visitor yesterday.

Charles Williams of Unlontown, visited his mother, Mrs. Sadie Williams on Sunday.

Hazel and Zed Orr visited friends at Dawson over Sunday.

The body of Frank King, who was killed by a train at Layton on Monday morning, was brought to Blair's morgue and prepared for burial.

Leonard Blair, Thurman Hixson and Lay Cope came down from Unlontown and spent Sunday at their homes here.

Miss Goldie Williams, who teaches at Wick Haven, was here Sunday.

Raymond Luce left yesterday for Detroit.

PERRYOPOLIS, Sept. 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Roland Cully are visiting friends in Ohio.

Mrs. W. L. Torpe and daughter Evelyn, spent Sunday in Connelville.

Charles Reynolds came down from Connelville on Sunday to call on his parents.

Mrs. Lela Hough of Burnside visited relatives in town yesterday.

Mrs. Brallier returned to Layton yesterday after a visit with friends here.

Philip Hellerbach, rural mail carrier, is taking his vacation. Mrs. Kate Harris, the substitute, is doing the work.

Misses Blanche and Beatrice Stuckmayer were Connelville shoppers on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Leachy and son of Vanderbilt, spent Saturday and Sunday visiting relatives here.

Charles Snyder and family of McKeenport, visited friends in town on Sunday.

Mrs. William Armstrong and Mrs. A. C. Herwick were Connelville callers Saturday.

Mrs. J. Turner of Elwood City, returned home last evening after being the guest of Clara Shickler for a few days.

Miss Maude Martin of Burnside, Miss Anne Leeper, William Leeper, of Hick Haven, and Luther Cope of Scottdale, were out of town folks attending services at the Church of Christ on Sunday.

Mrs. Lizzie Shuler left yesterday for a visit with her daughter at Elwood City.

Station Luce of Monocmen called on friends here yesterday.

Miss Anna J. Lewis of Dunbar, was the guest of Pauline Hodgkins over Sunday.

Thurman Shiley of Connelville, was calling on friends in town on Saturday and Sunday.

L. V. Stichel of Star Junction, was the guest of friends in town Sunday.

Mrs. Ada Herwick returned today to her home at Elwood City after visiting friends here.

Miss Mina Craig of Unlontown spent Sunday with relatives in town.

Early day work of the Methodist Episcopate "Constitution" Sunday with a good attendance. Special music was a feature of the program. In the evening a trio composed of Mrs. Youkin, Mrs. Kannerer and Mrs. Snyder rendered a selection, and Miss Mabel Youkin sang a solo.

Try our classified advertisements.

VOGEL'S CLOSE SHAVE.

Minstrel Man Has Narrow Escape from Instant Death.

WOOSTER, Ohio, Sept. 30.—John W. Vogel, the minstrel man, narrowly escaped death here yesterday in a peculiar manner.

A fast freight, passing his private car, let loose a brake shoe which flew over 100 feet and struck the frame work of the window, within six inches of Vogel's head, imbedding itself in the woodwork.

Mr. Man!!

That New Fall Suit!

- Do you want it
- To fit?
- To wear?
- To keep its shape?
- To keep its color?
- Do you want to pay while wearing?

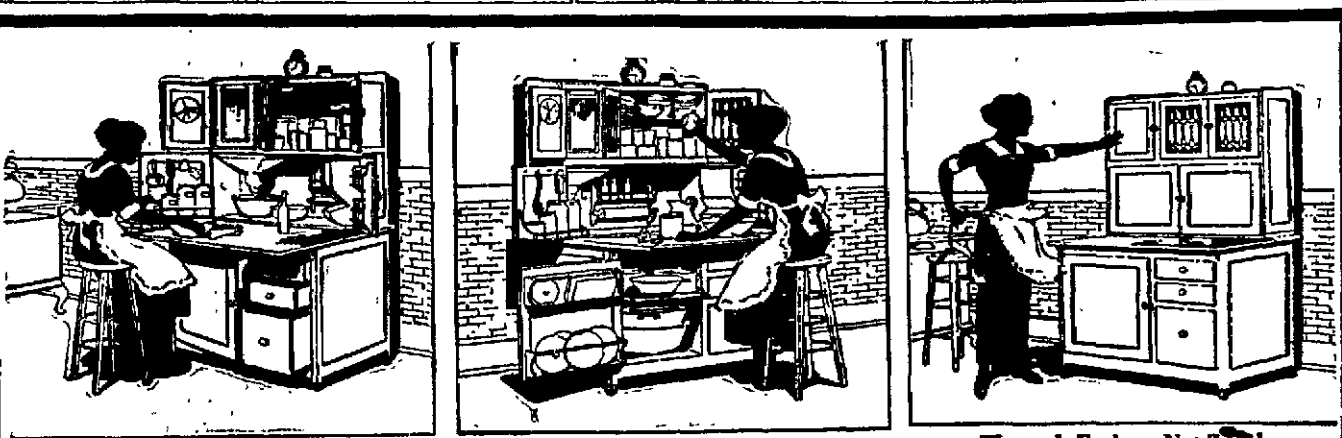

If the answer to all these questions is

YES!

buy the suit at the "Charge Account Store"

UNION CREDIT CLOTHING CO.
207 N. PITTSBURGH ST.

OPEN EVENINGS.

You May Delay Too Long

21 have joined the Hoosier Club within two days. 29 only now can enroll and have their cabinets delivered immediately.

$1.00

Only Membership Weekly Dues

A single $1.00 pays all, as this club is under the strict supervision of the Hoosier Company which limits membership.

With the remarkable rapidity of this week's sales, these few Hoosier Club Memberships we have left will be snapped up long before we expected. The others have gone to enterprising women who appreciate this great chance to solve the servant problem in their kitchens and make their work comfortable and easy by expending only a dollar.

These women each received the cabinet within a few hours of the time they joined the club. We delivered it at once and set it up all ready to use. Their delight can be appreciated only by a Hoosier owner.

Each paid merely $1.00, (the Hoosier Club membership fee that is part of the price of the cabinet), and weekly dues of only $1.00 for merely a few weeks complete the small total bill.

The women who may enjoy these same advantages are so few that we urge you to make up your mind now to be here early tomorrow morning and enroll as one of the lucky Hoosier members.

Only Complete Cabinet

There isn't a woman living who isn't overjoyed at the comfort and ease of management and working conditions that the Hoosier brings.

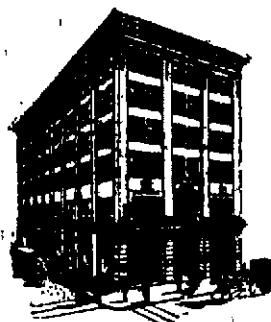

Every modern labor-saving machine for the kitchen has been tested by the Hoosier Company to bring the Hoosier to its present perfection. It is the only scientifically built kitchen cabinet, and the only one that is complete. Every cabinet shown here is the newest model.

Club Terms Apply Only During This Sale After That, Our Regular Terms Will Prevail

HOOSIER Kitchen Cabinet

The Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet

BIG SIX STORY BUILDING

CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

BRANCH STORES IN GREENSBURG AND JEANNETTE.

Saves Miles of Steps

Through Sleeping Cars to Baltimore

The "Baltimore Limited," with Observation Parlor and Club Car, Conches, leaves Connelville 10:35 A. M., arriving in Baltimore 6:55 P. M. Train, with Sleepers, also leaves 11:30 P. M., arriving in Baltimore at 8:10 A. M., via the

Western Maryland Lines

REICK'S ICE CREAM

Daily from Pittsburgh. REICK OR BULK. "It's Pure That's Sure." Served at our Fountain Tables. Neapolitan Ice, Sunday 10c. Take home a Brick 25c and 40c. Collin's Drug Store, 117 S. Pittsburgh Street.

The Daily Courier.

Entered as second class matter at the postoffice, Connelville, Pa., May 1, 1895.

THE COURIER COMPANY,
Publishers.

J. H. STUBBS,
President and Managing Editor.
J. H. STUBBS,
Secretary and Treasurer.
JAMES J. DRISCOLL,
Advertising and Circulation Manager.

TUESDAY EVENING, SEP. 30, 1913.

LET THE PEOPLE RULE.

The Democratic leaders of Connelville will have to get that muscle out again. The Democratic bark is running recklessly around the political garden and threatens to ruin the beautiful flowers of hope that spring perennially there. Commenting on the city election, The News says: "Evidently it is the intention of both Democratic and Republican leaders in Connelville to avoid the strenuousness of an extended municipal campaign. The interest which manifested itself prior to the nomination died out when the results became known. Since then the ominous silence has reigned in both camps. Whether or not this is to be taken as the calm just preceding the storm is known, perhaps, only to the candidates and those who will be responsible for their campaigns."

"It is not at all likely that the indifference which has prevailed for the past two weeks will continue. The Republican candidate for Mayor is ambitious, and his chief supporter, Harmon M. Kephart, will band all of his energies to retain his control of the municipal government. There are so many citizens of Connelville who will oppose a continuation of the Kephart reign in Connelville that they are almost certain to begin asserting themselves soon."

"The friends of Rockwell Marietta, the Democratic nominee, assert they have not been idle even though they have been quiet. Certain necessary steps for the inauguration of the campaign have been completed. Mr. Marietta has so many friends among the voters of all parties that it may not be necessary for him to engage personally in the campaign."

"In the apathy which has followed the primary the voters have had plenty of time to draw comparisons as to the merits of the two candidates. On the Republican side will be youth and inexperience overshadowed by a malign political influence which has heretofore been a millstone around Connelville's municipal neck. On the other will be the wisdom of experience which comes with maturity and an active business life, coupled with an unselfish devotion to Connelville which has found expression in numerous acts of spontaneous generosity."

"Under such conditions the voters may be safely depended upon to make their choice."

The people can be depended upon to make their choice of city officers without the strenuousness of an extended campaign and without the necessity of heart attacks or depression such as characterized the above untruthful and unwise deliberance."

It is a matter of common knowledge that both the Republican and the Democratic tickets are almost without exception composed of citizens of character and ability. The things The News says about its ticket are in the main quite true, but the things it says about the Republican ticket are in the main political lies, and are likely to be rebuked. Harmon M. Kephart is not a candidate at this election; there is positively no warrant for the assertion that he will dominate the Republican administration if one is chosen; and there is absolutely no honest and proper reason why his name should be injected into the campaign with so much frequency and such display of venom. Furthermore, if Republican rule has been Kephart reign, it must be said that it has been just a bit better than some of the Democratic reigns which preceded it. Perhaps it were better not to go into the "millstone" and "malign influence" business. Certain it is that the candidates nominated for city offices on the Republican ticket are citizens of known independence and high personal character, and even the candidate for mayor, though a young man, has not been wholly without experience in administrative matters.

The Courier did not make such a violent pretense of non-partisanship as did its contemporary when the non-partisan ballot confronted this election, but so far as we are concerned in this election every candidate shall have a square deal. We don't propose to vilify reputable citizens because they are candidates on the Democratic ticket, nor do we propose to stand by and see a Democratic organ abuse equally reputable citizens just because they are candidates on the Republican ticket.

Certainly the voters can be depended upon to settle this matter satisfactorily and without the assistance of a party organ which does not know and cannot practice common fairness. The people do rule, and the people will rule.

If burglars can crawl over the transoms of storehouses in the central portion of town without let or hindrance, in the full glare of the electric light, there is no reason why they cannot enter houses in the darker and less frequented portions of the town without molestation, all of which emphasizes the suggestion hitherto made in these columns that Connelville needs some plain clothes men for night service.

Hold-ups are becoming almost as common in Connelville as house-breakings. This is Tariff-for-revenue-without-protection.

Waynesburg has banished its pair of undesirable citizens who are said to be a corrupted the morals of a portion of the court house family. They may convict, they may banish the sinners if they will, but the scent of scandal will cling round the court house still.

Nature smiled on rally day.

On the basis of present production and supply, growing cultivation is by odds the most profitable crop the mountain farmer can cultivate. It beats moonshining.

Massachusetts reports the first foot-bath accident. A half-buck went out with a broken back.

The Panama Pacific exposition does not seem to be popular with the foreign nations, but it will doubtless succeed. The United States is big enough to have a big show of its own.

All trucks are dangerous on railroad.

It is reported that $150,000,000 of foreign goods are ready for shipment to this country as soon as the Democratic tariff bill is enacted. It looks as if the Democratic policy would create a boom in European business circles. Its effects at home remain to be seen.

The Young Men's Christian Association of Connelville is willing to keep the bodies as well as the souls of the boys clean.

Colonel Roosevelt is a near candidate every now and then.

The appeal of the Connelville postmaster for more applicants for jobs in his department is being nobly responded to. Patriotism is not dead in this city.

The weather prophets seem to agree that after a very unsatisfactory summer we will have a hard winter. The only consolation in the situation is the fact that weather signs during the past couple of years have been conspicuous by their failure.

The Moose tribe of Connelville is very prolific.

The predicted long and hard winter has no terrors for coal men, but it has already begun to worry the railroads.

The Pennsylvania railroad is making an earnest and honest effort to get out of the coal business and conform strictly to government standards.

Clerk Bixler is the handy man of the borough administration, but there is a limit to the jobs of even a 'Poo Bah.

The Westmoreland county lass who ran down a passenger train and galloped through the examinations at a 97 1/2 mile an hour is making of a fine school mar'm.

All foreign auto drivers are not onto Connelville's curves.

Harvey M. Burkeley of Somerset county is reported to be over $10,000 short in his accounts, but it may not be assumed that he spent all the money in his Congressional campaign. He ran on a reform ticket supported by the Hon. Bill Flinn.

The San Jose scale destroyer is in demand in Pennsylvania. It cuts 'em alive.

Brass bands may come and go, marches and parades, but new ones are constantly forming. Connelville is a musical center.

Editors will have no trouble in figuring up their incomes for Uncle Sam's taxing machine.

Accidents usually travel in groups. This section seems to be passing through an excursion of this character.

Looking Backward.

News of the Past Condensed from the Files of The Courier.

SEPTEMBER 28, 1913.
Centennial of Fayette county celebrated at Uniontown with a big meeting and jubilee. Hon. Daniel Kohn makes principal address on "The Civil War and the Fayette County." Postoffice Department issues order that three-cent postage stamps will not be sold after October 1.

Connellsville Water Company increases its capital stock to $70,000.

New type of passenger car, much wider and more commodious, is put in service on local lines by the Pennsylvania railroad.

Charles Window catches 124-pound pike in the Yough river.

Council lets contract to grade Pittsburgh street to Thomas Mulligan.

The Ocean mines near West Newton make their first shipment of coal.

Hecla works at Pleasant Unity are turning out 136 tons of coke a day. Fifty of the 171 new ovens have been completed.

Moorewood suspends a day because cars are scarce.

The Vanderbilts come into active possession of the Yough river & Northern railroad and gain foothold in the coke region.

SEPTEMBER 29, 1913.
Detailed report of the operation and output of the region for the week ending Saturday, September 28, shows 5,291 ovens in blast against 12,097 idle, with a total estimated production of 41,350 tons. The shipments aggregated 10,373 cars consigned as follows: Pittsburgh and river tips, 1,324; to points west of Pittsburgh, 1,882; to points east of Connelville, 1,740.

John G. White of Connelville delivers address at big grangers picnic at Leisenring.

Plot to hold up and rob Baltimore & Ohio express at West Newton discovered and frustrated by sending freight train ahead on the passenger train's schedule.

John Muller, a trolley car conductor on the New Haven and Leisenring line, sustained fractured skull when struck by a pole as he leaned out of a window to greet his sister. Contractors begin laying brick on the South Side end of Pittsburgh street. Attendance for first month in the public schools was 1,914; 452 boys and 522 girls.

Undertown experienced drought, the residents being practically without a supply of water for two days.

Talk of strike of Baltimore & Ohio employees subsides when officials announce that there will be no cut in wages.

SEPTEMBER 25, 1913.
Detailed report of the operation and output of the region for the week ending Saturday, September 20, shows 25,591 ovens in blast against 13,921 idle, with a total estimated production of 217,058 tons. The shipments aggregated 10,373 cars consigned as follows: Pittsburgh and river tips, 1,324; to points west of Pittsburgh, 1,882; to points east of Connelville, 1,740.

Announcement is received that turn-free delivery will be inaugurated in Fayette county on November 2.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Strickler slightly injured in a runaway on Pittsburgh street.

Connellsville Aerle of the Order of Eagles organized with large charter membership.

Largo crowd of Connelville people attend first world series baseball game between Pittsburgh and Boston.

Fayette County Gas Company gets a well in Marion county producing 1,000,000 cubic feet.

Freight Agent H. S. Spoor of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and William Towney succeeds him.

Wanted.

WANTED—YOU TO ADVERTISE IN our classified columns.

WANTED—BOY AT ROYAL Woolen Mills. Will not interfere with school work. Call at store, 25sept13d.

WANTED—DININGROOM GIRL. Come prepared for work. MRS. CHAS. E. CARL, 8, Pittsburgh street.

WANTED—THE OLIVER PLANTS 1, 2 and 3 are running every day and can still take on a few more miners and coke drawers. Apply to Foreman of the respective plants. 14sept13d.

WANTED—PARTY TO ACT AS DISTRICT manager for an old established Boston house. Must be capable of handling salesmen. Apply P. O. Box 1512, Boston, Mass. 24sept13d.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM. Apply 115 W. TENTH ST. 25sept13d.

FOR RENT—TWO FURNISHED ROOMS. 112 Apple street, opposite McFarland's Millinery. 25sept13d.

FOR RENT—FRONT APARTMENT in Masonic Temple. Possession October 1st. See J. W. McCLAREN, 4sept13d.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOMS for light housekeeping. Call THISTATE PHONE 115-2. 25sept13d.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOMS for gentlemen, with or without board. Apply 205 S. HOSIERY ST. 25sept13d.

FOR RENT—SMALL HOUSE CORNER Porter avenue and South Arch street. Call at 429 SOUTH ARCH ST. 25sept13d.

FOR SALE—DININGROOM FURNITURE, 502 N. PITTSBURGH STREET. 25sept13d.

FOR SALE—FARM AND CITY properties. Loans negotiated. CHAS. E. KAYAK, Notary Public. 25sept13d.

FOR SALE—RECEIVED AT THE Youghiogheny lumber yard a consignment of fresh burned lime in barrels. 25sept13d.

FOR SALE—VERY DISHABLE building lot on West Fayette street, two lots from Main street. Price reasonable to quick buyer. Call ED. BAKER, Grocer. 25sept13d.

FOR SALE—LOT 50x100 ft. BEAUTIFULLY located on Twelfth street, West Side, Connelville. Price reasonable if sold by November first. CHARLES H. BLACK, Real Estate, Penna. 25sept13d.

FOR SALE—CHEAPEST AND MOST convenient building lots for workmen and others. City water, natural gas, electric light, trolley service. Prices range from $50 to $500, but mostly $200 around $200. Inquire while they last at the office of THE CONNELLSVILLE EXTENSION COMPANY, The Courier Building, Connelville, Pa.

Personal.

Wyman Hotel. Become successful; business; marriage. Call early. Special price. 27sept13d.

Abe Martin.

Whenever we see a fat loafer we wonder what system he's using. The pedestrian that is used to waltz his rights yesterday remains in a very critical condition.

The Fireman.

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old Slawash."

The fireman is one of the most prominent members of our leisure class. His duty is to loaf 23 hours of the day and to twist the tail of the fire hose with great vigor and expression during the 24th hour.

If the fire fiend would only leave his tail exposed during regular hours he would be almost all joy for the fireman, who would attend the ball game every day and go on river excursions at night. But he never knows when the twisting is to be done.

Sometimes he will rise at 3 A. M. to squint industriously until breakfast time, and then again he will drop a half gnawed ear of sweet corn at dinner time and travel four miles over a cobblestone pavement on the back of a horse cart in order to subdue a feverish coal shed. Because of this uncertainty the fireman can do nothing but hang around the premises and wait.

Waiting is the fireman's chief occupation. He is more patient than the man who has been promised a job by the Democratic candidate for Governor and who then never holding on the knob of the White House door since March 4th.

Waiting for work is also the life job of many thousand tired men who have learned to ask for it in Volapuk so that they will not be underkooked. Why then do not these men rush nobly into the ranks of the firemen? It is because the fireman gets his work after waiting for it.

The chief duties of a fireman when he finds work are to arise, leap nimbly into a large-legged pair of pants, slam on a helmet, slide down a brass pole and catch the rear of the hose cart as it goes past. He then rises swiftly to his task, like any millionaire holding on with one hand and buttoning his shirt with the other.

Arriving at his job, he takes a large impetuous hose, hoists it up a thirty foot ladder and squirts it on the flames, brushing the cinders, burning shingles and plate glass out of his eyes with deft movements of his hand. Sometimes he climbs down from the ladder and at other times he falls into the fire and has to be dug out from under 1,000 tons of hot brick. But he does not get any bonus for the latter feat.

When the fireman is not squinting, water ho is climbing up a red hot wall and rescuing beautiful ladies and gentlemen who have awakened too late and have found the elevator not running. The fireman who cannot climb up 11 stories by a water spout and carry two women and a baby over a plank to safety would be joined by his comrades.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

"Rescuing fat gentlemen who have awakened too late and found the elevator not running."

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Some firemen live to a fat old age and are buried in one piece by their sorrowing comrades after they have died comfortably in bed. But many of them do not return from the fire until several days afterwards when the ruins have cooled sufficiently to allow the undertaker and the coroner to enter. For this reason we do not gaze with envy upon the fireman as he loafs around the station in his shirt sleeves doing nothing all day and waiting patiently for the chance to allow a large brick house to fall on him.

Before Purchasing Note the Splendid Values of Our $25.00 Suit Special and Fall Coat Styles.

If you wish to econom

NEWS OF A DAY AS GATHERED UP ABOUT SCOTSDALE

Two Young People Formerly of This Place are to be Married Today.

THE ONE WAS A LOCAL SINGER

Harry H. Miller and Edna M. Hayes will wed today at Painesville, Ohio. The bride is a well known local singer. The groom is a local singer.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTSDALE, Sept. 29.—The marriage of Miss Edna Hayes, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Hayes, who were with the Western United Brethren Church, and now at Painesville, to Harry H. Miller, a young business man of Youngwood, will take place today at the home of the bride. The bride is a well known local singer and has been teacher of schools at the Youngwood schools. The pair will live in Youngwood where Mr. Miller, who is a son of Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Miller of Scottdale, is in the lumber business.

MUST NOT SPEAK.

Rev. H. S. Myers of Market street, has been suffering from symptoms of a breakdown of the nervous system and his physicians have ordered that he engage in no public speaking before the coming March. Reverend Myers preaches frequently as a supply in various churches, and his many friends will regret to learn that he has been prohibited from speaking, while it is quite a burden on Reverend Myers, who is an energetic worker.

A SMALL WAR.

Justice of the Peace Stephen H. Hittnerford had before him a couple of the colored female of Pine Street, who were in a quarrel, which had several elements of romance and war surrounding it. Jennie Harvey, not so very large, charged Minnie, a colored woman, who is larger, with surety of the peace. It developed that Minnie came out of her house with a revolver and threatened Jennie, who said she was afraid of Minnie's gun. Minnie said she was not afraid of Jennie's gun, but that she only wanted one of them. Minnie says that with a carpet beater she made Jennie fly. Jennie is a large woman, but it is probable his inherent gallantry that made his conquest with the carpet beater such an easy task. The matter was settled by having Minnie pay the costs in the suit.

NOTES.

D. W. Jones of Latrobe, spent Friday in Painesville visiting the family of his brother-in-law, Leo Roy Kelly.

Miss Jessie Ruth returned home Saturday from a week's visit with her mother, Mrs. John Kelly of Painesville.

Mr. and Mrs. John Truitt and Mr. and Mrs. Abram Truitt of Painesville drove to Painesville on Friday and spent the day at the Exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shupe have returned to Scottdale from Creighton, where they spent several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin K. Fitzgerald spent Sunday in Painesville, visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Roy Kelly.

John A. McGee of Painesville, has returned home after a four months' visit in Greeley, Colorado, at the home of his brother, William McGee.

William Alderson of Painesville was visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Phillips of Painesville from Wednesday until Friday.

Mr. John S. Kelly and niece, Miss Olive Henderson spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Clark Henderson of Painesville.

The festival given by the Mount Pleasant Church people on Saturday evening was well attended and the church fund increased quite a good amount.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Donnelly, the latter before her marriage Miss Margaret O'Connor, arrived home from their wedding trip on Saturday.

Mrs. Herman Stierke of Mount Pleasant was calling on Scottish friends on Monday.

G. D. Pyle and son returned on Monday from a four day visit with Pyle's father at Centerville, Somerset county.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Shively visited friends in Smithton over Sunday. Charles A. Brown's home from several weeks spent in Johnstown.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Sept. 30.—Chicken house been missing on Bradlock Road avenue for some time. Every effort has been put forth to catch the thief who has just been gathered in. This horse of the day was a large cat belonging to Mrs. Wisnager of that street. The cat was a large weasel, which the cat proudly came dragging up the yard and laid at the Wisnager door for inspection.

J. E. Jacobson had Frank Small arrested for wild trespass and malicious mischief. At a hearing before Justice of the Peace L. S. Rhodes last evening Small was held under $200 bond for court both persons are from Camp Hill, Pa.

Misses Viola Stevenson and Margaret Fulton and Orvil George left yesterday for the University of Pittsburgh. Miss Stevenson will take up playground work; Miss Fulton will learn domestic science, while Mr. George will study for a physician.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith, daughter Vines and Wiggins, and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hines, who were in Indiana on Sunday where they were guests of Miss Arlie Doncaster and Rachel Stoner.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kell have returned home, after a visit paid Mr. and Mrs. D. L. George.

C. E. Coleman has returned from

Frederick, Md., where he was called, his son having been very ill with blood poison.

Mrs. Jonathan Barrone and F. P. Elchior left this morning for Ithaca, N. Y., where they will visit Mrs. Neidrow.

J. H. Gans left this morning for Pittsburgh, where he will make an effort to gain possession of his two grandchildren, who are in a home there. The children belong to Mrs. Viola Gilmory.

Mrs. Catherine Dullinger is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Miller of Pittsburgh.

William Koring and sister, Miss Anna Koring, were guests over Sunday of Miss Agnes Purdie.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoctor Gans of Greensburg, were guests of friends here yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Frots of Greensburg, were guests of friends here yesterday.

Mrs. Mary Wolfe and son, Charles, left yesterday for Columbus, O., to make their home. Her son, George Wolfe, is employed at Columbus.

CONFLUENCE.

CONFLUENCE, Sept. 30.—J. H. Weaver was in Connelville on business Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Shaw and two daughters were guests of friends in Ohio Saturday.

Russell Dehott, Baltimore & Ohio engineer of Connelville, spent Saturday and Sunday with his family here.

Charles Swan of East Pittsburgh, was the guest of his sister Mrs. Van Dike Humbert from Saturday till Monday.

Walter German of Philadelphia, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Weaver several days last week.

Mrs. M. Snyder of Pittsburgh, has been visiting her sister Mrs. Harry Lauer, the past week.

Mrs. Mildred Hooton of Bowlersburg, Pa., who has been the guest of her sister Mrs. Kate Tanshill for several weeks, has returned home.

Loss Bailey of Ohio, was in town on business one day last week.

Mrs. Clarence Linker and two daughters Ruth and Sarah of Chicago, were guests of Mrs. George McDonald from Friday till Monday.

Benjamin Brown made a business trip to Connelville Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Hostetter, Somerset, is spending several weeks with her son Harry Hostetter and family.

Miss Rosa Beam of Connelville is the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Will Beam, this week.

W. M. Black spent Sunday with his sister Mrs. A. B. Kurtz and brother John Black.

Miss Ida McDonald was the guest of her cousin Miss Anna McDonald Sunday and Monday.

Frank Marquart spent Sunday as the guest of friends in East Pittsburgh.

Antonie Jones who advertises.

STAR JUNCTION.

STAR JUNCTION, Sept. 30.—Misses Ruth Elwell and Katie Dunn were callers in Perryopolis yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wilson of McKeesport, were visiting friends and relatives in town yesterday.

Prayer meeting this evening in the Baptist Church at 7:30 o'clock.

A. J. Vetter was a business caller in town yesterday.

Mr. J. M. Melton was a business caller in town yesterday.

STAR JUNCTION, Sept. 29.—Misses Ethel and Dora Dutham, Miss Karl and Louise Bowler were callers in Uniontown yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Leadbetter and son were on their way calling on relatives in town yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Rabeck were calling on Vanderbilt friends yesterday.

Mrs. Harry Eickel was calling at Perryopolis Sunday afternoon.

M. Hecklinger of Dawson, was a business caller in town Saturday.

Artie and Cora Martin were calling in Perryopolis yesterday.

John Carson and daughter Margaret of Scottdale, are visiting in town at the home of his brother Lewis Carson.

Mrs. L. L. Bowden of Trotter is visiting friends in town.

Frank Patterson of Wick Haven, was calling in town last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomson of McKeesport were calling in town yesterday.

Benjamin Crawford of Wick Haven, was calling in town last night.

Mr. C. Eickel was calling in Perryopolis yesterday.

VANDERBILT.

VANDERBILT, Sept. 29.—Miss Carrie Dull, bookkeeper in the First National Bank, was visiting friends in Connelville for a few days last week.

Mrs. Walter Riley and children of Connelville were visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Means over Sunday.

James Chambers of Allison, visited his mother, Mrs. John Chambers, on Sunday.

Harry Reed was visiting relatives in Pittsburgh for a few days last week.

Mrs. W. A. Cosgrove was a recent Connelville caller.

L. J. Leichter and B. M. Kelly motored to Pittsburgh Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Thompson of Connelville were visiting relatives here Sunday.

John Healy, spent Sunday at home.

Mrs. W. J. Hood and son W. J., Jr., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bradman of Uniontown.

Jesse Jordan of Hittner was visiting here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Smith and little son, of Star Junction, spent Sunday with the latter's mother, Mrs. Orvil Morrow.

Misses Blanche and Beatrice Stuckel of Perryopolis were visiting relatives here for a few days.

Mrs. Kate Smith and little daughter of Connelville, were calling on the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wallace.

Miss Martin Roman was a Connelville shopper Saturday.

Marshall Dean, who underwent an operation at Mercy Hospital, Pittsburgh, for a tumor, is getting along nicely.

Edw. Means of Helen, spent Sunday at his home here.

It Will Pay You

To read our advertising columns carefully. You will find mentioned there every day.

At the Theatres.

Scene from Act I in "The Master Mind."

THE SOISSON.

"THE MASTER MIND," with Willie Granger in the title role comes to the Soisson, Friday, August 3, theatre goes of this city will have an opportunity to witness the drama which last season was pronounced by New York critics to be the season's greatest thriller.

The theme is said to be an original story which grips the heart and commands the breathless attention of the audience from the first rise of the curtain to the final drop.

The play serves to introduce an author, Daniel D. Carter, new to local theatres. Mr. Carter has heretofore been known only as a magazine writer, but in this, his initial dramatic effort, he is said to have acquired a foremost position in the rank of American playwrights.

The producers, Val O'Farrell & Co., have provided elaborate stage settings, strictly adhering to the detail necessary to provide the proper atmosphere.

Associated with Mr. Granger are the actors well known players who contributed to the success of the play at the Harris Theatre, New York, during the long run last season.

"FREAKIES"

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule in nearly all of the other cities and the result will doubtless be the same here. At the Soisson, Saturday, matinee and night, October 11.

The exchanges from nearby cities where "Freakies" has been played are enthusiastic in their praise of the play, and the beautiful scenic equipment with which the play has been mounted. Full houses seem to have been the rule

GINK AND DINK—Petey Is No Truck Horse.

Welcome Home

The summer girl has now come home. All brown and plump and ruddy. Prepared to make the autumn scene. Extremely nice and cozy. The flush of health is in her cheeks. With her eyes are dancing. The flush of conquest in her heart. Makes life seem most entrancing. She bathed and danced and walked and sailed. And read a book and flirted. Till to the young men she has left. The whole world seems deserted. Ah, soon she'll be the autumn girl. And we shall have before her. For she was made to be admired. And therefore we adore her! —New York World.

GOVERNMENT POSITIONS VACANT AND HARD TO FILL.

Civil Service Commission Finds Competent Employees Scarce.

Filling jobs in the government service seems not to be an easy task for the civil service commission, as the announcements of a number of examinations to be held in various parts of the country Oct. 8 and 9 contain paragraphs similar to this: "As only one application was filed for a recent examination to fill this position, qualified persons are urged to enter this examination."

For $1,000 a year the government hopes to get a "stenographer-botanical translator" in the bureau of plant industry of the department of agriculture. "It is desired," says the announcement, "to secure the services of a competent stenographer and typewriter who has a knowledge of German and one other foreign language, either French, Italian or Latin, and who has had some experience in scientific work, preferably either in botany, pathology or agriculture." The examination is open to both males and females, who must be between the ages of twenty and thirty-five. This examination is to be held Oct. 8.

The forest service wants a transit man, at from $800 to $1000 a year, to assist in the survey of lands to be acquired under the Weeks law in the southern Appalachian and White mountain; the bureau of plant industry has an opening for an assistant in crop acclimatization, male, to carry on work in the breeding and acclimatization of corn and cotton in the southwest, salary $840 to $1,200; the bureau of standards needs an assistant in laboratory physics, male, at from $800 to $1,200 a year, also a laboratory assistant in engineering, male, at from $800 to $1,200; the Indian service wants a domestic science teacher, female, at $600 a year, to go to the Flanahan school in South Dakota. All these examinations will be held Oct. 8.

These examinations are to cover two days, Oct. 8 and 9. Laboratory aid, male, bureau of plant industry, salary $800 a year, architectural and scenic artist, male, at $1,200; the Indian service, at Chicago, junior chemist, male, in the bureau of mines at $1,600 a year; forest assistant, male, in the forest service at $1,200 a year, and heating and ventilation engineer in the treasury department at $1,200 per annum.

TAMES WILD GESE.

They Live With Domestic Quakers on an Ohio Farm.

"There is nothing as wild as a wild goose," is an old saying. The saw is subject to exceptions for a family of wild geese lives on the farm of J. O. and H. K. Mulford, newspaper publishers of Bellefontaine, O. Their wings are not cropped and they are as tame as kittens, enjoying the freedom of the fields and barnyard and making occasional trips to a small lake on the farm when they desire to dip.

Father and mother geese were captured in Shelby county. They were wild at first and their wings were cropped, but in time the feathers grew out again. They have never shown any disposition to wander off through the air. This season the parent pair have given much attention to four little geese that were hatched out in the spring.

Going On.

A terrible noise of thumping and stamping came from Bob's room early one morning.

"Bobby, Bobby," called his mother from downstairs, "what is going on up there?"

"My shoes," replied Bob.

MOLECULES ARE INVISIBLE.

Yet Their Tracks Through Space Can Be Discerned.

It came to be evident about the middle of the last century that, in order to explain certain facts connected with the relative weights of gases, matter must not merely consist of atoms, but that these atoms must have the power of uniting in small groups in forming a compound, indeed, this must be so. For instance, carbonic acid gas must consist of one atom of carbon, which, along with two atoms of oxygen, forms a small group of three atoms.

The novelty of the conception was in the notion that oxygen itself, in the state of gas, as it exists, for example, in the air, consists of small groups of atoms, in this case, two. To such small groups of atoms was given the name molecules. A molecule is that portion of a substance which can exist in the free state, as oxygen does in air. An atom generally exists in combination, but atoms may and sometimes do exist separately, in which case they also are termed molecules.

Now, can molecules be seen? In their existence a mere assumption? The answer to that question is, No, they cannot be seen, but artificial molecules can be made which correspond so closely in their behavior to real molecules that the existence of real molecules is practically certain. Moreover, although no one has ever seen a molecule, still the track of a molecule moving through space has been seen, and, just as Robinson Crusoe was right in inferring the existence of man Friday from his footprint imprinted in the sand, so the real existence of a molecule may just as certainly be inferred from the track it leaves.—Sir William Ramsay in Harper's.

COLD COMFORT.

It Came After the Little Fakir Had Got His Punishment.

The east and small boy had sadly misbehaved and was locked in his room. Pretty soon his mother heard him calling.

"Muvver," said the shrill voice, "I'm going to bust the window and fall out!"

The mother made no reply. Again the shrill voice arose.

"Muvver, I've found some matches, an' I'm going to set fire to the curtains."

The mother remained indifferent.

Once more the voice called her:

"Muvver, don't you smell sumthin' burnin'?" Even this drew no response.

"If you don't smell nothin'," the voice went on, "I'll 'cause I pulled out all the matches an' swallowed 'em, an' I'm going to die. Do you hear that, muvver? I'm going to die!"

By this time the mother was thoroughly incensed, and, hastily preparing a cup of mustard and hot water, she hurried upstairs.

"If you've swallowed match heads," she announced, "you'll have to swallow this to keep them company." And then she poured the nauseating stuff down his throat.

A little later the aggravating young scoundrel, who had much humbly concluded to take the balance of his punishment in silence.

"I didn't really swallow the matches, muvver," he contritely explained.

"I knew you didn't, sonny," replied the mother.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"I didn't really swallow the matches, muvver," he contritely explained.

"I knew you didn't, sonny," replied the mother.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"I didn't really swallow the matches, muvver," he contritely explained.

"I knew you didn't, sonny," replied the mother.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"I didn't really swallow the matches, muvver," he contritely explained.

"I knew you didn't, sonny," replied the mother.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"I didn't really swallow the matches, muvver," he contritely explained.

"I knew you didn't, sonny," replied the mother.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"I didn't really swallow the matches, muvver," he contritely explained.

"I knew you didn't, sonny," replied the mother.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"I didn't really swallow the matches, muvver," he contritely explained.

"I knew you didn't, sonny," replied the mother.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"I didn't really swallow the matches, muvver," he contritely explained.

"I knew you didn't, sonny," replied the mother.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"I didn't really swallow the matches, muvver," he contritely explained.

"I knew you didn't, sonny," replied the mother.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"I didn't really swallow the matches, muvver," he contritely explained.

"I knew you didn't, sonny," replied the mother.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"I didn't really swallow the matches, muvver," he contritely explained.

"I knew you didn't, sonny," replied the mother.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"I didn't really swallow the matches, muvver," he contritely explained.

"I knew you didn't, sonny," replied the mother.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"I didn't really swallow the matches, muvver," he contritely explained.

"I knew you didn't, sonny," replied the mother.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"I didn't really swallow the matches, muvver," he contritely explained.

"I knew you didn't, sonny," replied the mother.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"I didn't really swallow the matches, muvver," he contritely explained.

"I knew you didn't, sonny," replied the mother.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Minute "Movies" of the News Right Off the Reel

Rear Admiral Hugo Osterhaus, U. S. N., retired, will bring his career to an end as managing director of a canary bird farm.

Mrs. Russell Sage celebrated her eighty-fifth birthday by distributing $1,000 among the churches and colleges of Syracuse, N. Y.

Western railroads report a perceptible falling off of passenger traffic to Reno, which they attribute to recent amendment of Nevada overnight divorce law.

Finger bowls having proved a provocative of the intemperance consumption of drinking water, Minneapolis hotel keepers have withdrawn them from their tables.

High cost of living gets a jolt from importation of Argentine beef at reduced prices and in good condition. Promised that South American eggs and butter are on the way.

Poet from Cleveland permitted to starve to death took a posthumous revenge on unappreciative generation by leaving beside his body a volume of his own unrec'd works.

"I'll give $10,000 to my first grandchild," announced a rich and sporty Los Angeles man shortly after the marriage of his two sons. One of the daughters in law has just claimed the money for the dearest little darling that ever was. Grandpa has already made good.

"LAST AMERICAN BABY TO BE BORN BY 2012."

Predicted That Neuter Type of Women Will Be Evolved.

"Two-fifths of the American men and women of marriageable age are unmarried."

"The birth rate is decreasing in the United States at the rate of 1 per cent. If things keep on as they are going, if the capacity for motherhood continues to diminish as rapidly as at present the last child will be born before 2012, and in the year 2017 there will be a world in which there will be no babies. Also a neuter type, consisting of women set apart to do the world's work outside the home, will be evolved."

"These predictions were made recently at the meeting of the American Public Health association in Colorado Springs."

Dr. J. H. Kellogg is authority for the statement that so long as a race struggles to nurture a heart, as long as the open air is its habitat and it takes its food from the hand of nature, the chances for longevity are good.

Dr. Kellogg said that "the fertility of the American wives is decreasing at the rate of 1 per cent a year" and that wherever he turned "unsuitably and idly are on the increase."

Quoting Dr. Holt of New York, Dr. Kellogg said: "At least three out of every four children born into the homes of the well to do classes are fed at some other font than the maternal breast. Women are losing their maternal instinct and the capacity for motherhood and a few generations will suffice to produce a large class of women for whom marriage will be interdicted and who will be as society as we do by nature set apart as a working class."

Love's Paradox.

"Love results in many paradoxical situations," remarked the professor. "What is one?"

"To keep the love of another one must return it!"—Buffalo Express.

Things that never could have made a man happy develop a power to make him strong.—Phillips Brooks.

Resources and Facilities

The Title & Trust Company of Western Penn'a. has both resources and facilities to render to its depositors and clients the best service in banking.

Accounts subject to check are invited.

CAPITAL AND SURPLUS $425,000.00.

Oldest Savings Bank in Fayette County.

Capital and Surplus $425,000.00.

Oldest Savings Bank in Fayette County.

Capital and Surplus $425,000.00.

Oldest Savings Bank in Fayette County.

Capital and Surplus $425,000.00.

Oldest Savings Bank in Fayette County.

Capital and Surplus $425,000.00.

Oldest Savings Bank in Fayette County.

Capital and Surplus $425,000.00.

Oldest Savings Bank in Fayette County.

Capital and Surplus $425,000.00.

Oldest Savings Bank in Fayette County.

Capital and Surplus $425,000.00.

Oldest Savings Bank in Fayette County.

Capital and Surplus $425,000.00.

Oldest Savings Bank in Fayette County.

Capital and Surplus $425,000.00.

Oldest Savings Bank in Fayette County.

Capital and Surplus $425,000.00.

Oldest Savings Bank in Fayette County.

Capital and Surplus $425,000.00.

Oldest Savings Bank in Fayette County.

Capital and Surplus $425,000.00.

Oldest Savings Bank in Fayette County.

Capital and Surplus $425,000.00.

Oldest Savings Bank in Fayette County.

Capital and Surplus $425,000.00.

Oldest Savings Bank in Fayette County.

Capital and Surplus $425,000.00.

Oldest Savings Bank in Fayette County.

Capital and Surplus $425,000.00.

Now For Stoves and Ranges! and the Place to Buy is at Featherman's of Course.

No store in town can hold a candle to us as far as prices are concerned, and when it comes to fuel-saving features other stores are "not in it for a minute."

At $26.50

We are showing a Steel Range that's a wonder. Come and see it and allow us to explain to you its great fuel-saving features—you be the judge.

Look through our line of Heating Stoves—compare qualities—compare sizes—compare beauty—compare weights, and

THEN COMPARE PRICES

and you'll be the most surprised and delighted person on earth when you see how much money we can save you.

Our Rug Department is Crowded with Mighty Values.

Room-size Rugs $4.75 as low as

Handsome Brussels Rugs, 9x12 feet, $17.50 values, for $12.75

Heavy Axminster Rugs in the most delightfully charming patterns ever shown, 9x12 foot sizes, $30.00 qualities, $23.50

Ready money is not necessary at Featherman's. Your credit's good and every price tag in this big store shows in plain figures that

YOU'LL DO BETTER AT THE FEATHERMAN FURNITURE CO.

Ready money is not necessary at Featherman's. Your credit's good and every price tag in this big store shows in plain figures that

YOU'LL DO BETTER AT THE FEATHERMAN FURNITURE CO.

MOVING AND GENERAL HAULING

Special attention to moving pianos. See

J. N. TRUMP, Office 101 E. Peach Street. Both Phones.

READ THE COURIER.

J. B. KURTZ, NOTARY PUBLIC AND REAL ESTATE.

No. 3 South Meadow Lane, Connelville, Pa.

PATRONIZE THOSE WHO ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY COURIER.

Efficient Service and Courteous Treatment

Has enabled us, within the past year, to double the number of our customers. Quite a number of persons and societies with surplus funds, who do not want to tie up their money subject to the rules of a regular 4% account, are taking advantage of our special 4% accounts. If you are a customer at this bank you will always find us willing to extend any reasonable accommodation on satisfactory security.

Our Customers Always Receive the Preference. If you have a little ready money it will pay you to open an account with us. Income accumulated and take advantage of our service.

The Colonial National Bank of Connelville, Pa. Main and Pittsburgh Sts.

4% interest paid on deposits—note and Time Deposits. Foreign Department equipped to give the best of service.

Don't Forget

YOUGH TRUST COMPANY.

VACATION SAVINGS CLUB

STARTS MONDAY Tell Your Friends

The first test of a truly great man is his humility.—Ruskin

The Maids of Paradise

By Robert W. Chambers

Author of "The City of Dreadful Night," "The Case of the White Horse," "The Case of the Black Horse," etc.

Illustrated by O. Irving Myers

As I stood looking at her, a vivid sense of light flashed through the window behind me, illuminating the walls, showing over the ceiling with an unusual brilliancy, and the same instant the entire scene seemed to change, a hubbub of voices swelled into a roar; then the entire scene went dark and a mass of men sprang into the hallway, shouting with the red torch-light flashing on their faces and bayonets.

And before them, revolver swinging in his slender hand, stood Buckhurst, a red flash of light across his breast, his eyes fixed on the Countess de Vassart.

Speed and Jacqueline came hurrying through the hall to where I stood; Buckhurst's smile was awful, as his eyes flashed from Speed to me.

Behind him, close to his shoulder, the torch-light fell on Mornac's smooth, pale face, stretched now into a forced grimace; behind him crowded the soldiers of the commune, rifles slung, wearing their ushanka faces.

He caught a glimpse of us.

"Buckhurst," I said, "what the devil do you mean by this display?" and I started for him, shouldering my way among his grotesque escort.

For an instant I looked into his dead, lifeless eyes; then he silently motioned me back; a dozen bayonets were leveled, leaving me to retire, inch by inch.

The Countess de Vassart was already in the hall, facing Buckhurst, with perfect composure.

He turned and addressed us, suavely, bowing with a horrid, mock deference to the Countess:

"In the name of the commune! The Countess de Vassart is accused of sheltering the individual Scarlett, late inspector of imperial police; the individual Speed, late inspector of imperial gendarmes; the individual Mornac, under general suspicion; the woman called Sylvia Kiven, a German spy. As war delegate of the commune, I am here to accuse!

"I accuse the woman Sylvia Kiven, of communication with Prussian agents; of attempted corruption of soldiers under my command. I accuse the Countess de Vassart, late lady known as the Countess de Vassart, of aiding, encouraging and abetting these enemies of France!"

He waited until the short, fierce yell of approval had died away. Then:

"Call the soldier Holland!" he said. My heart began to hammer in my throat. I believe it's hammering in my throat.

"Listen," he murmured.

I listened to the wretched creature Holland while he told what had happened at the semaphore.

"You say he bribed you?" asked Buckhurst, gently.

"Yes," I said, "twenty times."

"And you're the briber?"

The wretch laughed outright.

"And you believe that you deserve well of the commune?" smiled Buckhurst.

The soldier grinned and opened his mouth to answer, and Buckhurst shot him through the face; and, as he fell, shot him again, standing wreathed in the smoke of his own weapons.

"I think," said Buckhurst, in a pleasantly persuasive voice, "that there will be no more bribery in this battalion. He deliberately opened the smoking weapon; the spent shells dropped one by one from the cylinder, clinking on the stone floor.

"No—no more bribery," he mused, touching the dead man with the carefully polished toe of his shoe. "Because," he added, looking at his revolver, "it does not like it."

He turned quietly to Mornac and ordered the corpse to be buried, and Mornac, plainly unmoved at the murderous act of his superior, repeated the order, cursing his men to cover the quaver in his voice.

"As for you," observed Buckhurst, glancing up at us where we stood speechless together, "you will be judged and sentenced when this drum-head court decides. Go into that room!"

The Countess did not move.

Speed touched her arm; she looked up quickly, smiled, and stepped across the threshold. Speed followed; Jacqueline slipped in beside him, and then I turned on Buckhurst, who had just ordered his soldiers to surround the house outside.

He motioned toward the door with leveled weapons. I turned and entered the room, and he locked the door from the outside.

The Countess, seated on the sofa, looked up at us where we stood speechless together. "You will be judged and sentenced when this drum-head court decides. Go into that room!"

"Is it to be force or tragedy, monsieur?" she asked, without a tremor in her clear voice.

I could not have uttered a word to save my life. Speed, peering the room, turned to read my face; and I think I read it, for he stepped short in his tracks.

"Do they mean to shoot us?" he asked, quickly.

"No," said the Countess, with a faint smile, "your whippers are no compliment to my race. Pray honor me by plain speaking. Are we to die?" We stood absolutely speechless before her.

"Ah, Monsieur Scarlett," she said, gravely, "do you also fall me at the end?"

"You, too—yes?"

"Must I tell you that we of Trecoat fear nothing in this world?"

"Are we to die?" she asked.

"Yes, madame."

"Thank you," she said, softly. "Why do you look at me so sadly, Monsieur Scarlett? Truly, you must know that my life has been long enough to prove its uselessness. I had rather die with you than live without the friendship which I believe—which I know—is mine. You see I have nothing to regret in a death that brings me to you again. Do you regret life?"

"Not now," I said.

"You are kind to say so. I believe—yes, I know that you truly care for me. Do you?"

"Yes."

"Then it will not be hard. . . . Perhaps not even very painful."

The key turning in the door startled us. Buckhurst entered, and through the hallway I saw his disheveled soldiers running, singing, open doors, tearing, trampling, pillaging, wrecking everything in their path.

"Your business will be attended to in the garden at dawn," he observed, blinking about the room, for the bright lamp light damped him.

The Countess did not even glance up as the sentence was pronounced; she looked at me and laid her left hand on mine, smiling as though waiting for the moment to resume an interrupted conversation.

He went away, slamming and locking the door; and I heard Mornac complaining that the signals had gone out on the semaphore and that there was more treachery abroad.

"Get me a horse!" said Buckhurst. "There are plenty of them in the stables. Mornac, you stay here; I'll ride over to the semaphore."

"Where are you going?" demanded Mornac's angry voice. "Do you expect me to stay here while you start for Paris?"

"You have your orders," said Buckhurst, menacingly. "Silence, you fool. Do you obey orders or not?"

Their voices receded. Speed sprang to the door to listen; then he came back to the window.

"Scarlett," he whispered, "there are the lights of a vessel at anchor off Orléans."

I was beside him in an instant. "It's the cruiser," I said. "Oh, Speed, for a chance to signal!"

Jacqueline, standing beside Speed, said quietly: "I could swim it. Wait. Raise the window a little."

She cautiously unlocked the window and peered out into the dark garden.

"The cliff falls sheer from the wall, yonder," she whispered. "I shall try to drop. I learned much in the circus. I am not afraid, Speed. I shall drop into the sea."

"To your death," I said.

"Possibly," I said. "It is a good death, however. I am not afraid."

"Close the window," muttered Speed. "They'd shoot her from the wall, anyway."

Again the child gravely asked permission to try.

"No," said Speed, harshly, and turned away. But in that instant Jacqueline flung open the window and vaulted into the garden. Before I could realize what had happened she was a glimmering spot in the darkness. Then, Speed and I followed her, running along toward the foot of the garden, but we were too late; a slim, white shape rose from the top of the wall and leaped blindly out through the ruddy torch glare into the blackness beyond.

I looked at Speed. He stood wide-eyed, staring at vacancy.

"Could she do it?" I asked, horrified.

"God knows," he whispered.

Then we crept back to the window, where we entered in time to avoid discovery by a wretch who had succeeded in mounting the wall, torch in hand.

"Where is Jacqueline?" asked the Countess, looking anxiously at the little blue light on Speed's knee. "Have they harmed that child?"

I told her.

A beautiful light grew in her eyes as she listened. "Did I not warn you that we Bretons know how to die?" she said.

There were noises outside our door, loud voices, hammering, the sound of furniture being dragged over stone floors, and I scarcely noticed it when our door was opened again.

Then somebody called out our names: a file of half-drunken soldiers grounded arms in the passage way with a bang that brought us to our feet, as Mornac, flushed with wine, glittered unsteadily, drawn sword in hand.

"I'm damned if I stay here any longer," he broke out, angrily. "I'll see whether my rascals can't shoot straight by torch-light!"

The shuffling tread of the insurgent infantry echoed across the gravel court yard; torches behind the walls were extinguished; blackness enveloped the cliffs.

"Well," broke out Speed, hoarsely, "Good-by, Scarlett!"

He held out his hand.

"Good-by," I said, stunned.

Then he went to the Countess and offered his hand.

"I am so sorry for you," she said, with a pallid smile. "You have much to live for. But you must not feel lonely, monsieur; you will be with us—we shall be close to you."

She turned to me, and her hands fell to her side.

"Are you contented?" she asked.

"Yes," I answered.

"Yes," she said, sweetly, and offered her hand. "I bid you very lightly. 'You say,' I whispered, 'that it is not love. But you do not speak for me. I love you.'"

A bright blush spread over brow and neck.

"So—it was love—after all," she said, under her breath. "God be with us today—I love you."

"March!" cried Mornac, as two soldiers took station beside me. Speed passed out first; I followed; the Countess came behind me.

"Courage," I stammered, looking back at her as we stumbled out into the torch-lit garden.

She smiled adorably. Her forehead had mounted the guillotine smiling.

A soldier dressed like a Turco lifted a torch and set it in the flower bed under the wall, illuminating the spot where we were to stand. As this soldier turned to come back I saw his face.

"Salah Ben-Ahmed!" I cried, hoarsely. "Do Marabouts do this butcher's work?"

The Turco stared at me as though stunned.

"Salah Ben-Ahmed is a disgraced soldier!" I said, in a ringing voice. "It's a lie!" he shouted, in Arabic. "It's a lie, O my inspector! Speak! Have these men tricked me? Are you not Prussians?"

"Silence! Silence!" bawled Mornac. "Turco, fall in! Fall in, I say! What! You menace me?" he snarled, cocking his revolver.

Then a man darted out of the red shadows of the torch-light and fell upon Mornac with a knife, and dragged him down and rolled on him, stabbing him through and through, while the mutilated wretch screamed and screamed until his soul struggled out through the flame-shot darkness and fled to its last dreadful abode.

The Lisard rose, shaking his foggy knife; they fell upon him, clubbing and stabbing with stock and bayonet, but he swung his smeared and sticky blade, clearing a circle around him. And I think he could have cut his way free had not Trio-Trac shot him in the back of the head.

Then a frightful tumult broke loose. Three of the torches were knocked to the ground and trampled out with the insurgents, doubly drunken with wine and the taste of blood, seized me and tried to force me against the wall; but the Turco, with his shrill, wolf-like battle yell, attacked them, sabre-bayonet in hand. Speed, too, had wrested a rifle from a half-talented ruffian, and now stood at bay before the Countess; I saw him wielding his heavy weapon like a fall; then in the darkness Trio-Trac shot at me, so close that the powder flame scorched my leg. He dropped his rifle to spring for my throat, knocking me flat, and, crouching on me, strove to strangle me; and I heard him whining with eagerness while I twisted and writhed to free my windpipe from his thin fingers.

At last I tore him from my body and struggled to my feet. He, too, was on his legs with a bound, running, doubling, dodging; and at his heels I saw a dozen sailors, broadswords glittering, chasing him from tree to shrub.

"Speed!" I shouted—"the sailors from the Fer-de-Lance!"

I had picked up a rifle with a broken bayonet; the Countess, clasping my left arm, stood swaying in the rifle smoke, eyes closed; and, when a horrid screeching arose from the depths of the garden where they were destroying Trio-Trac, she flew to striding, hiding her face on my shoulder.

Suddenly Speed appeared, carrying a drenched little figure, partly wrapped in a sailor's pea-jacket, slim limbs drooping, blue with cold.

"Put out that fire in there," he said, hoarsely; "we must get her into bed. Hurry, for God's sake, Scarlett! There's nobody in the house!"

"Jacqueline! Jacqueline! have little Jacqueline," murmured the Countess, bending forward and gathering the unconscious child into her strong, young arms.

A fresh company of sailors passed on the double, rifles trailing, their faces about encouragement. And as we came in view of the semaphore, I saw the signal tower glow from base to top. The machine fired, steadily from the windows above us.

They want the Red Terror!" laughed the sailors. "They shall have it!"

Blackened, scorched, almost suffocated, I staggered back to the room, where the Countess stood clasping Jacqueline, huddled in a blanket, and smoothing the child's wet curls away from a face as white as death.

Together we carried her back through the smoking hallway, up the stairs to my bedroom, and laid her in the bed.

The child opened her eyes as we drew the blankets.

"Where is Speed?" she asked, dreamily.

A moment later he came in, and she turned her head languidly and smiled. "Jacqueline! Jacqueline!" he whispered, bending close above her.

"Do you love me, Speed?"

"Ah, Jacqueline," he stammered, "more than you can understand."

Let that night the light cavalry from Lorlent rode into Paradise. At ment de marche which he commanded. At sunrise I had bade good-by to the sweetest woman on earth; at noon we were miles to the westward, riding like demons on Buckhurst's heavy trail.

I am not sure that we ever saw him again, though once, weeks later, Speed and I and a dozen Hussars gave chase to a mounted man near St. Brievre, and that man might have been Buckhurst. He led us a magnificent chase straight to the coast, where we rode plump into a covey of Prussian Hussars, who were standing on their saddles, hacking away at the telegraph wires with their heavy, curved sabers.

That was our first and last sight of the enemy in either Prussian or communist guise, though in the long, terrible days and nights of that winter of '71, when three French armies froze, and the white death, not the Prussians, ended all for France, rumors of insurrection came to us from the starving capital, and we heard of the red flag flying on the Hotel-de-Ville, and the rising of the carbiniers under Florent; and some spoke of the Vendée, or of the insurrection and called him Jim Buckhurst.

Then, for three blank, bitter months, freezing and starving, the First regiment de marche of Lorlent Hussars stood guard at Brest over the diamonds of the crown of France.

If It's Rexall It's Right

Doc Bird says:—"Here is to the world, let's have song and laughter, for there will be no prescriptions to fill hereafter."

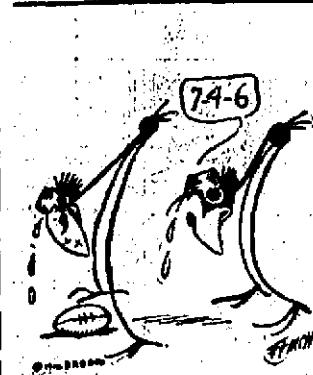

There Are Over 7,000 Rexall Stores

in this country and each one carries over 400 remedies. A remedy for each and every ill, with a money back guarantee.

West Penn Drug Store

DOC BIRD SAYS:

"We don't say you do go elsewhere."

But then why should you—if there is a reason tell us, if not tell others.

DOC BIRD SAYS:

"Did you get the signal for correct prescription filling. You can get it at the West Penn Pharmacy—the Rexall Store."

Doc Bird says:

"Get an icy hot bottle before the cold nights come on and be prepared."

Robinson & Miller, Prop's.

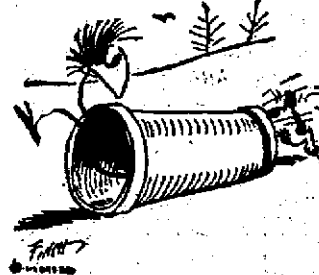

DOC BIRD SAYS:

"In case of sickness take your prescription to the most reliable Drug Store." We leave the rest to you.

DOC BIRD SAYS:

"This is the store that gives the most change back and is only one square from everywhere."

130 West Main Street, Connellsville.

ment de marche which he commanded.

At sunrise I had bade good-by to the sweetest woman on earth; at noon we were miles to the westward, riding like demons on Buckhurst's heavy trail.

I am not sure that we ever saw him again, though once, weeks later, Speed and I and a dozen Hussars gave chase to a mounted man near St. Brievre, and that man might have been Buckhurst. He led us a magnificent chase straight to the coast, where we rode plump into a covey of Prussian Hussars, who were standing on their saddles, hacking away at the telegraph wires with their heavy, curved sabers.

That was our first and last sight of the enemy in either Prussian or communist guise, though in the long, terrible days and nights of that winter of '71, when three French armies froze, and the white death, not the Prussians, ended all for France, rumors of insurrection came to us from the starving capital, and we heard of the red flag flying on the Hotel-de-Ville, and the rising of the carbiniers under Florent; and some spoke of the Vendée, or of the insurrection and called him Jim Buckhurst.

Then, for three blank, bitter months, freezing and starving, the First regiment de marche of Lorlent Hussars stood guard at Brest over the diamonds of the crown of France.

CHAPTER XXII.

The news of the collapse of the army of the East found our wretchedly clothed and half-starved Hussars still patrolling the environs of Brest, from Belair to the Port Tournant, and from the banks of the Elorn clear around the ramparts to Launay bay. For three months our troops scarcely left their saddles, except to be taken to the hospital in Reconyance.

Suddenly the nightmare ended with a telegram. Paris had surrendered.

On the first day of March, by papers from London, we learned that the war was at an end, and that the preliminary treaty of Sunday, the 26th, had been signed at Versailles.

The same mail brought to me an astonishing offer from Cairo, to assist in the reorganization and accept a commission in the Egyptian military police. Speed and I, glancing at our ragged uniforms by the barracks stove, discussed the matter over a loaf of bread and a few hardtacks, until we fell asleep in our groggy chairs.

When I awoke in the black morning hours I knew that I should go. All the morning I sat in my room, and I was roused, I a nomad, had stayed too long in one state place; I must be moving on.

Leave of absence, and permission to travel pending acceptance of my resignation, I asked for and obtained before the stable trumpets awoke my comrades from his heavy slumber by the barracks stove.

Speed awoke with the trumpets, and stared at me where I knelt before the stove in my Adrian clothes, strapping up my little packet.

"Oh," he said, briefly, "I knew you were going."

"So did I," I replied. "Will you ride to Trecoat with me? I've two weeks' permission for you."

We bolted our breakfast of soup and black bread, and bawled for our horses, almost crazed with impatience, now that the moment had come at last.

Far ahead we caught sight of the smoke of a locomotive.

"Landreneau!" gasped Speed. "Ride hard, Scarlett!"

The station master saw us and halted the moving train at a frantic signal from Speed, whose uniform was to be reckoned with by all station masters, and ten minutes later we stood waiting in a cattle car, huddled close to our horses to keep warm; while the locomotive tore eastward, whistling frantically, and an ocean of black smoke poured past, swarming with sparks.

At Quimperle some gendarmes aided us to disembark our horses, and a sub-officer respectfully offered us hospitality at the barracks across the square; but we were in our saddles the moment our horses' hoofs struck the pavement, galloping for Paradise, with a sweet, keen wind blowing, hinting already of the sea.

As we dismounted in the court yard the sun flashed out from the fringes of a huge, snowy cloud.

"There is Jacqueline!" cried Speed, tossing his bride to me in his excitement, and left me planted there until a soldier came from the stable.

Then I followed, every nerve quivering, almost dreading to get foot with in, lest hapless awake me and I find myself in the freezing barracks once more, my brief dream ended.

After a while a glimpse of common sense returned to me. I squared my shoulders and breathed deeply, then rose and walked to the window.

A step at the door, and I wheeled, trembling.

The Countess de Vassart stood in the doorway, a smile trembling on her lips. In her gray eyes I read hope; and I took her hands in mine. She stood silent with bent head, exquisite in her silent shyness; and I told her I loved her, and that I asked for her love; that I had found employment in Egypt, and that it was sufficient to justify my asking her to wed me.

"As for my name," I said, "you know that is not the name I bear; yet, know that you have given me your love. You read my dossier in Paris; you know why I am alone, without kin, without a family, without a home. Yet you believe that I am not tainted with dishonor. And I am not. Listen, this is what happened; this is why I gave up all; and . . . this is my name!"

And I bent my head and whispered the truth for the first time in my life to any living creature.

When I had ended I stood still, waiting, head still bowed beside hers.

She laid her hand on my hot face and slowly drew it close beside hers.

"What shall I promise you?" she whispered.

"Yourself, Elaine."

"Take me. . . . Is that all?"

"Your love."

She turned in my arms and clasped her hands behind my head, pressing her mouth to mine.

(THE END.)

European Wines.

The total production of wine in 1912 in the following countries: Spain, France, Italy, Luxemburg, Roumania, Switzerland, Algeria, Tunis, is estimated at 2,781,985,060 gallons, against 2,458,325,000 gallons in 1911, an increase of 11.4 per cent.

It Will Pay You

To read our advertising columns.

Are you ill, or blue, or generally down at the heels?

Have you nerves?

Are you so temperamental that even your own family can't get along with you?

If so, cheer up, for here's a way out. Read our new serial.

